Ike Calls for Strengthening of Civil Rights Laws

EFFORTS TO CUT HOUSING BILL FOILED

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—An impenetrable housing bill, surviving two major Republican efforts to cut it, moved toward final Senate action today.

Further efforts both to increase and to decrease the bill's size lay ahead, but Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), author of the measure, predicted its passage without further change.

The only change made in the bill Wednesday cut 150 million dollars off the program of direct government home loans for veterans, halving the 300 millions the Senate Banking Committee had voted.

But Democratic leaders accepted the change, in the expressed hope it would make the measure more palatable to President Eisenhower, and it was adopted by voice vote.

The House meantime voted 310-89 on a separate bill to provide the full 300 millions for direct GI loans despite a protest from Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Ind.), GOP leader, that "budget busters are on the move."

The House bill, limited to veterans' housing, also would increase the maximum interest rate from 4% to 5% per cent. (Turn to Page Twenty One)

Integration Is Ordered by Court For Alexandria

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Another Virginia community was ordered by a federal court to admit Negro children to its white public schools.

Unless a stay is granted, nine Negro students will enter three white schools in Alexandria next Tuesday. This will raise to 30 the number of Negroes attending integrated classes in public schools since the state's segregation barrier was cracked Monday for the first time.

Judge Albert V. Bryan issued the Alexandria desegregation order Wednesday as integrated classes proceeded for the third day in Arlington and Norfolk with no signs of disorder. Alexandria school authorities announced they would appeal Judge Bryan's desegregation ruling and ask for a stay. If that fails, the school board said it is ready to enroll the Negro pupils in white schools.

AIR POLLUTION BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill introduced in the Senate today would give the State Health Department broad powers to control air pollution in Pennsylvania.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Harry E. Seyler (D-York), follows legislation recommended by the Health Department aimed at solving the growing problem of air pollution in the state.

Weather Not Cooperating With Ike's Vacation Plans

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Vacationing President Eisenhower, who had weather trouble and a rough flight getting South, hopes for sunny skies and a crack at quail hunting or golf today.

The weatherman predicted a brightening picture for this piney woods region. It was pretty dismal when Eisenhower arrived from Washington late Wednesday for a visit until Monday with George M. Humphrey, former secretary of Treasury.

The weather was so bad — drizzling rain and dense fog — that the President's private plane had to make an instrument landing at Moody Air Force Base at Valdosta, Ga., 67 miles southeast of Humphrey's plantation estate here.

Eisenhower was forced to abandon original plans to land at Spence Air Force Base at Moultrie, Ga., which is only about 35

Reds Release U. S. Army Convoy

Under sharp attack by the United States, Soviet authorities Wednesday turned loose a U. S. Army truck convoy they had held in East Germany for 53 hours. A few minutes later the convoy and its five grim soldiers rolled into West Germany, past this checkpoint on the border, between East and West Germany. NEA Service Telephoto.

Blaze in Unoccupied House Reveals Still

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. (AP)—Firemen went to a blaze Wednesday in an unoccupied house in this suburban Philadelphia community.

They found it had been caused by a wood fire under a 2,50-gallon capacity still.

State liquor agents said they had been looking for a still in the area the past two months.

National Police Say Yank Hired To Murder Castro

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

HAVANA (AP)—The National Police early today announced that a former U.S. Navy pilot had confessed he came to Cuba in December to kill Rebel Leader Fidel Castro.

A statement from National Police headquarters said Alan Robert Nye, 31, had admitted he was promised $100,000 by the chief of the Batista Air Force, Brig. Gen. Carlos Tabernilla, if he killed the rebel chieftain.

Nye, who says his home is in Whiting, Ind., but who gives Coral Gables, Fla., as his last address, was arrested in Oriente province by Castro's men Dec. 26, five days before former President Fulgencio Batista gave up the fight against the revolution and fled to the Dominican Republic.

Tabernilla fled at the same time. (Turn to Page Twenty One)

U. S. Army Pilot Released With Four Soldiers

HERLESHEUSEN, Germany (AP)—Communist East Germany today released U. S. Army pilot Richard Mackin and four other American soldiers held in East Germany for several weeks.

Mackin, a 27-year-old American from Washington, D.C., parachuted into East Germany Dec. 3 after he got lost and his small plane ran out of gas.

The four soldiers are Elwyn Bell of Hill City, Kan.; Kenneth G. Carlson of San Leandro, Calif.; James W. Hayes, of Baltimore, Md., and Melwyn Hampton whose hometown was not given.

The four disappeared in Berlin during November and December last year.

The release was negotiated between the American Red Cross and the East German Red Cross, after the U.S. State Department stuck to its policy of refusing to negotiate with the East German regime.

The five crossed into West Germany at this frontier post on the border of Communist East Germany shortly after noon. Mackin looked pale. He wore Army fatigues and a felt cap. He said he felt fine.

MACMILLAN PLANS VISIT TO MOSCOW

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has accepted an invitation to visit the Soviet Union beginning Feb. 21.

Macmillan will be accompanied by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and will stay up to 10 days.

Moscow radio broadcast acceptance of the invitation simultaneously with an official announcement in London.

The announcements came only minutes after the departure from the British capital of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for Paris after two days of talks with Macmillan and other British leaders on Western policy including West Berlin's future and German unification.

Dulles met Macmillan at noon after an hour-long session with Lloyd.

It was the concluding round in a series of talks on international issues that Dulles had held in London since he flew from Washington Wednesday.

Dulles has scheduled further discussions on the German questions with French leaders.

He will fly to Bonn at the end of the week for conferences with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other officials.

Dulles and British leaders agree the West is opposed to the Soviet proposals on West Berlin and Germany but a final policy awaits Macmillan's scouting mission to Moscow.

Well-informed diplomatic sources said Macmillan looks upon his projected trip as reconnaissance to feel out the Soviet leaders on their basic attitude to questions dividing East and West — particularly the future of Germany.

Dulles arrived from Washington Wednesday and conferred with Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, the first in a series of talks designed. (Turn to Page Twenty One)

Driver of Convoy Has Suspicions About "Incident"

By JOHN FIEHN
HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—The drivers of a U. S. Army convoy held by the Russians for more than 50 hours said today they got the impression the Soviets had deliberately set up the incident in advance.

Specialist Ewold F. Johnson of Brooklyn, N.Y., acting as spokesman for the four drivers, said he couldn't explain their feeling, but "we got the impression it was pre-arranged."

"Within minutes of arriving at Marienborn we realized trouble was brewing up," he told a news conference at this Iron Curtain border town. The conference was held before the drivers and their four trucks resumed their interrupted journey from West Berlin to Mannheim, in West Germany.

Cpl. Richard C. Masiero of Stockbridge, Mass., the convoy commander, had returned to Berlin.

Soviet border guards halted the convoy Monday at the Marienborn checkpoint because Masiero had refused to permit an inspection of its cargo of broken-down jeeps. The convoy was released without an inspection late Wednesday after strong U.S. protests, including one from President Eisenhower.

Vice President Hurt In Fall on Sidewalk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is nursing two broken ribs, but he's not letting them get him down.

Nixon fell on his back Tuesday night when he slipped on the sleek-covered sidewalk in front of his home.

Nixon said at a reception Wednesday night the injury was painful. But he joked about it and said he had never before had such thoughtful treatment from his daughters, Patricia, 12, and Julie, 9.

City Forgets World War II Has Ended

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Fourteen years ago World War II came to an end, and they turned the lights back on all over the world. In Seattle they forgot.

The lights outside the portal of the Lake Washington floating bridge were blacked out on Pearl Harbor day, Wednesday, the chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee pointed out someone apparently had forgot to turn them on again.

Snow Is Falling In Wide Sections Of the Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather hammered northern and central parts of the country today, with the season's worst storm in the central Colorado Rockies and a fresh blast of icy air moving into the Midwest.

Snow swirled across the northern and central Rockies, from Montana into Colorado except for the northeast corner.

It was near or below zero in most areas from sections of the Rockies through parts of the Dakotas, the Upper Mississippi Valley into the northern Great Lakes region.

Gusty northwesterly winds powered the cold air into the north central region. The snow and cold headed into the northeast part of the country.

Snow fell across wide areas in the northern and central Rockies, with heavy falls in most of Colorado except in the northeast corner. More than two feet of new snow piled up at Vail Pass in Eagle County. Snowslides blocked traffic on U.S. Highway 6 at Loveland and U.S. Highway 50 at Monarch Pass.

Man Sought in Death Of Newscaster Is Held

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A man sought since early January in the robbery and subsequent death of former television newscaster Ed Wood in Columbus has been picked up here and has admitted his part in the robbery, police said.

Alfred Spencer Trayham, 36, said he met Wood in a Columbus bar and took him to a rooming house where he and Carl O. Lewis, 28, beat and robbed the victim of $120, a watch and an overcoat.

Early the following day, on Jan. 8, Wood's body was found on the bottom of a stairway in the rooming house. Police said he apparently tripped and fell down the stairs after a night of drinking.

Lewis was arrested in Columbus shortly after the incident and is being held for grand jury action on a charge of unarmed robbery.

Curious Motorist Has Car Clipped by Plane

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Andrew Bird, 70, who just "wanted to watch the planes come in," had a brush with one of them while driving his car on the runway at Cleveland's Hopkins Airport Wednesday night.

The aircraft, a big four-engine Air Force Hercules C130A, whacked six neatly spaced gashes in the steel top of the car, inches above Bird's head.

Bird had arrived early to pick up his wife, Lida, who works for a catering firm. Instead of going to the airport parking lot he headed down a ramp leading to the field.

Apparently becoming confused, Bird drove the length of a 6,000-foot runway, only to find his way blocked by a fence.

KINZUA DAM MEETING

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mayor Thomas J. Gallagher of Pittsburgh Wednesday called for a meeting Feb. 26 in Washington of all Pennsylvania congressional members to expedite action on the Kinzua Dam project.

PROPOSAL WOULD MAKE IT CRIME TO USE FORCE IN OBSTRUCTING THE COURTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called on Congress today to strengthen civil rights laws by making it a federal crime to use force or threats of force to obstruct court orders in school desegregation cases.

As part of a seven-point legislative package, Eisenhower said this proposal would give the government a valuable enforcement power to deter mob violence and such other acts of violence or threats which seek to obstruct court decrees in desegregation cases.

The program had been tagged by the President in advance as a moderate one designed not to raise temperatures.

But it may not please either Southern segregationists or Northern liberals of both parties in all respects.

The package provides:

Additional investigative power for the FBI in crimes involving destruction or attempted destruction of schools or churches. Eisenhower would make a federal offense of flight from one state to another to avoid detention or prosecution.

Authority for the attorney general to inspect federal election records and require the preservation of such records for a reasonable time, in order to help preserve the rights to vote as "the keystone of democratic self-government."

Temporary financial and technical help to state and local agencies to help them adjust to the school integration.

Temporary authority to provide for educating children of members of the military services whose schools have been closed because of integration troubles.

Extension for two years of the life of the Civil Rights Commission. The commission will go out of business in September without an extension.

Converting the committee on government contracts into a commission on equal job opportunity on a statutory basis.

At present, nondiscrimination in employment under government contracts is required only by presidential executive orders rather than under specific laws enacted by Congress.

Along with the President's message, Atty. Gen. Rogers sent drafts of legislation on four points involving the Justice Department. The submitted bill would provide penalties up to $10,000 fine and two years imprisonment for obstruction of integration orders. It would cover actions ranging from threatening letters to force. Wrong Body Is Sent To Bereaved Parents

GAFFNEY, S.C. (AP)—A distraught Gaffney couple waited anxiously today while the Navy and FBI searched for the body of their son, one of three sailors killed in a Florida highway accident. The wrong body was sent home Wednesday for burial.

The FBI reported that the body received here was that of Lawrence H. Geis of Milwaukee, one of the other victims.

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Charlotte, N.C., FBI office, said the body of the Gaffney seaman, Jerry Robert Driskill, 23, may have been sent to Wisconsin in the mix-up.

Experts Unable To Learn Cause of Crash of Airliner

NEW YORK (AP)—Investigators today pinned hopes on two surviving crew members for an answer to why a big new airliner crashed near La Guardia Airport, killing 65 of the 73 aboard.

But both the crewmen, the co-pilot and the flight engineer, lie critically injured and cannot be questioned. The pilot was killed. One big question to be answered was whether the lack of a radio beam for altitude guidance of the plane had any bearing on the crash.

The American Airlines craft, coming in from the northeast through an overcast after a non-stop flight from Chicago, had the aid of a radio beam which lined its approach with the runway designated for the landing.

An altitude beam—which tells planes whether they are approaching too high or too low—is in use on the same runway for those landing from the southwest. Wind

Charge Reds Shot Down U. S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today publicly confronted Russia with evidence that two Soviet jets shot down an unarmed U. S. transport plane last September in a warlike attack. Six—and possibly 17 American airmen—were killed.

The evidence was a graphic tape recording of radio conversations between the two Soviet fighter pilots.

A transcript of this recording was attached to an eight-page summary, issued by the State Department, of its efforts to pry information about the incident out of the Soviet Union.

The C130 U. S. transport disappeared Sept. 2 on a flight along the Turkey-Armenia border.

Ten days later the Soviets reported it had crashed in Armenia. The bodies of six of the (Turn to Page Twenty One)

Motor Federation Favors Raising Age for Drivers

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Federation took a stand today against legislation to raise the minimum age for driver's licenses. It also opposed on principle a proposal that motorists carry warning devices for use in highway emergencies.

Charles E. Pugh, secretary-treasurer, said the warning device bill is "just another tax" on Pennsylvania's 3,800,000 motorists.

He added that the half-dozen bills in the House or Senate to make 18 the minimum age for obtaining a driver's license or learner's permit are "based on a fallacy that 16 and 17-year olds are involved in the largest number of accidents."

Accident statistics show that drivers in their later teens and early 20s are involved in more accidents by age group than the mid-teen-age group, Pugh contended.

Experts Unable To Learn Cause of Crash of Airliner

The altitude beam has been in use for the southwest approach because it is over a populated area. The northeast approach is over the East River.

The airliner coming in at mid-night Tuesday smashed into the river and broke up about half a mile from the end of the runway.

The La Guardia control tower said the plane had given no indication of trouble before the crash.

Twenty-two bodies have been recovered. Search was resumed today for 43 others, including that of the pilot.

Of the 65 who lost their lives, 50 were men and 12 were women. Three were children. Six of the eight survivors are in critical condition.

Some of the questions: Was there a mechanical failure in the airliner, one of six sleek, four-engine giant Electras put in (Turn to Page Twenty One)

New Ruling on Turn Signals for Trucks

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Revenue Department today excluded station wagons registered as commercial vehicles from its new requirements for turn signals on trucks.

Charles M. Dougherty, secretary, said station wagons wider than 80 inches will be permitted to use standard single-face signals. He said inspection stations have been advised to treat the station wagons as passenger vehicles.

The department recently ordered that commercial vehicles be equipped with front and rear signals which could be more easily seen by motorists.

Army Engineers Making Progress On French Creek

MEADVILLE (AP)—The rumble of breaking ice on French Creek marched steadily closer to Meadville today.

Smooth-working demolition teams of U. S. Army engineers swung back to the attack on a snake-like ice gorge blanketing more than two miles of the stream below this western Pennsylvania city.

The soldiers' weapons are innocent — looking one — pound blocks of TNT. Lashed into bundles, planted in holes sawed in the jam and exploded into towering pillars of ice and snow, the TNT bites 100-yard chunks out of the gorge. Blackened cakes of ice debris swirl down the fast running stream.

With each blast the 25,000 residents of this flooded-battered area could hope that the danger of a new flood had been lessened, at least a little.

But days of hard work were in prospect before the city could count itself safely past the situation which Mayor George Simonetta called "sitting on a keg of dynamite."

SHADES OF PAUL BUNYON'S "BABE"—There's more to this huge replica of a Hereford steer than meets the eye. Named "The Champ," the 19-foot-long plastic steer has been featured in several national cattle shows and exhibitions. Inside, displays illustrate how the vital organs of the real animal convert feed into beef and how a cow makes milk. So lifelike is the exhibit that the steer's body gives off the sound of his heart beat. On loan to the Agriculture Dept., "The Champ" is being sent to Europe for display at trade fairs to promote the sales of U.S. farm products abroad.

New Ruling on Turn Signals for Trucks

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Revenue Department today excluded station wagons registered as commercial vehicles from its new requirements for turn signals on trucks.

Charles M. Dougherty, secretary, said station wagons wider than 80 inches will be permitted to use standard single-face signals. He said inspection stations have been advised to treat the station wagons as passenger vehicles.

FEBRUARY DOLLAR DAYS

With 70 retail business establishments participating Warren should be the mecca for bargain seekers during February Dollar Days being observed Friday and Saturday

This issue, as the reader doubtless has already observed, comes in two sections, crammed full of advertisements containing money-saving offerings on all types of clothing, household furniture and other articles needed for the approaching spring and summer seasons.

The Retailers Committee of the Area Chamber of Commerce has announced that this promotion is ushering in a series of unusual events of like nature planned during the next ten months.

Shopping hours, it should be remembered will be from 9:30 a. m. until nine p. m. on Friday and 9:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Saturday.

Patrons will find it very much worth while to study all the "ads" in this large edition of the Times-Mirror before starting out Friday to take advantage of the bargains awaiting them.

JESSE G. SMITH

A large circle of friends and associates he had served faithfully and well over a long period of activity in public life, join in mourning the passing of Jesse G. Smith at the Warren General Hospital Wednesday morning, after a lingering illness.

Born in Erie Jesse lived in Warren since he was a child. In early life he distinguished himself as a baseball pitcher, and musician. Later he became interested in Republican politics, under the guidance of John Siggins, Jr., now residing in Harrisburg, eventually ascending to the chairmanship of the County Committee, a position he held until he resigned several years ago. As Inheritance Tax Appraiser, representative of the Department of Labor and Industry and later as referee for the Workmen's Compensation Board he made outstanding records. He had also served long and faithfully as member of the Borough Council from the Third Ward.

His sincere friendship and readiness to help will ever be remembered by all who came in contact with Jesse Smith. A good citizen, a fine public employee, and a genial neighbor, he merited and won coveted esteem for kindness. The Times-Mirror joins in extending sincere sympathy to the widow, the former Louise Anderson, and other surviving relatives in their bereavement.

WORLD TODAY

By James Marlow
Associated Press News Analyst

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—A sign of the changing times: George F. Kennan, the "Mr. X" of yesterday.

He's credited with being the author of the American policy toward the Soviet Union followed for a decade by both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

This is the policy of containment, of ringing the Soviet Union with military bases to prevent Soviet expansion. It's worked fairly well.

But now Kennan has other ideas. He's talking of a pullback of American forces in Europe.

Long employed by the State Department, Kennan got out after differences with Secretary of State Dulles. But his new ideas have brought him into sharp conflict with his old boss there, former Secretary of State Acheson.

In 1947, while Kennan was director of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined his containment policy in the Foreign Affairs Quarterly magazine. He wrote under the name of Mr. X. He said then:

"It is clear the main element of any United States policy toward the Soviet Union must be that of a long-term, patient but firm and vigilant containment of Russian expansive tendencies. . . .

"Russia, as opposed to the western world in general, is still by far the weaker party. . . . Soviet society may well contain deficiencies which will eventually weaken its own total potential."

While the Soviet Union hasn't expanded—in the sense of acquiring new territory—since 1947, she has become stronger, not weaker as Kennan hopefully seemed to think she might.

Kennan, who later served as ambassador to Moscow before his exit after his troubles with Dulles, Wednesday gave to a Senate disarmament subcommittee views which would indicate he thinks his 1947 policy is obsolete.

He talked of the idea of making a deal with the Russians so that both American and Soviet troops could be pulled back from Central Europe, or at least from Germany.

The man who once talked of containing the Soviet Union, Wednesday said he hopes it would not be necessary to pull American troops entirely off the continent of Europe.

He was thinking in terms of a neutralized Germany and seemed to envision it, while neutralized, as both democratic and free from the Communist political threat.

This is not the first time Kennan has talked this way. It's pretty much a repetition of broadcasts he made in Britain last March.

Those broadcasts made Acheson so furious that he replied to Kennan with an article of his own in the Foreign Affairs magazine. Acheson, who supports President Eisenhower's continued use of the containment policy which he himself used under the Truman administration, predicted:

Withdrawal of U.S. forces from Europe would lead ultimately to a linkup between Germany and the Soviet Union, confronting the world with a new war threat.

Acheson called the disengagement idea the "new isolationism" and stated the pullback of Soviet troops wouldn't mean much.

Yet withdrawal of Allied forces from West Berlin is what the Russians are insisting upon right now. The world is watching to see what Secretary Dulles, now in Europe, can come up with in making concessions to Moscow or standing firm.

No Room To Maneuver

Here and There

Americans are losing more letters and parcels in the mails—largely through careless mailing practices—Postmaster General E. Summerfield reports. A statement covering the 1958 fiscal year shows a total of 24,054,103 dead letter transactions and 622,356 dead parcels handled for the 12 months ended June 30, 1958. During the previous 1957 fiscal year (ended June 30, 1957) the corresponding figures were 23,808,568 dead letters and 548,012 dead parcels. "One of the principal reasons why dead letters wind up in dead letter offices, of course, is the failure to address them correctly or legibly," Mr. Summerfield observed. "However, the surprising part is that many of these letters could be returned if mailers would only use a correct and legible return address." In the case of parcels, he noted, incorrect or illegible addressing and failure to put a return address on the wrapper contribute to the loss. However, improper packaging, particularly inadequate wrapping paper which comes loose, is a major cause of loss. In case the wrapper comes off, a piece of paper with both the address and return address—placed inside the parcel—insures delivery or return. About a tenth of the lost letters in fiscal 1958 were returned to senders after processing in dead letter offices had turned up clues to the identity of the sender, or after claims had been made. Of the more than 24 million letters handled, 44,978 containing cash were returned to senders and the contents of 1,955,567 other letters were sent back. Of the remainder that could not be returned, 22,014,334 were destroyed, while 28,392 letters containing money and 10,834 containing other valuable enclosures were held awaiting possible reclamation. Total cash in the 44,978 returned to senders was $117,926, while the money in the 28,392 letters awaiting further action totaled $134,202. Such cash is held for one year awaiting reclamation and that which is not reclaimed goes into U. S. Treasury as Postal Revenue. Dead parcels are handled in a somewhat different way. They are sent to one of 15 different dead parcel post branches located in major post offices. However, they are not sent to these branches until every effort to deliver them has been made at the local post office and until they have been held for varying periods up to 6 months. Once at the dead parcel office, they are all sold at the next dead parcel auction. In 1958, Uncle Sam realized $378,002 from these auctions, compared with $335,695 in 1957.

Delbert Karmeier, research associate of the University of Illinois, has been asked by the motor vehicle department of Illinois to study automobile license plates. One would think that everybody knows everything about automobile license plates by now, but the fact of the matter is that few people know even a little bit about license tags. The study being conducted at the University of Illinois is the first of its kind and initial findings indicate that few states are in agreement on what a plate should look like. For example, 28 states issue plates with slogans on them. Fourteen use emblems of some kind. Twenty-eight issue plates that designate the counties or other areas in which plates were issued. Seven issue "safety" plates. And, although motor vehicle administrators don't seem to be in agreement about what plates should look like, police officers do agree. Charged with the responsibility of pulling injured people from highway wrecks or checking stolen cars, police officers have some firm opinions about what plates should look like. They shouldn't have slogans or emblems on them, for these non-functional additions to plates only serve to confuse people trying to read identification numbers on plates. In an emergency, being able to read a plate in a hurry can be important, say police officers. The designation of the local area in which the plates were issued makes life easier for police officers, they say. It makes it easier to trace stolen cars and read numbers or letters on the plates. And the use of "safety" plates seems to be a popular idea. Some plates, covered with a reflective material that reflects headlights, can be seen from almost 2,000 feet away at night. They are an important aid in preventing rear-end collisions after dark. According to one safety official, rear-end collisions are the "Achilles heel" of our highways. We commend Mr. Karmeier and the Illinois motor vehicle department for their study. Taking time to look at something as common as license plates could prove valuable and might save the lives of motorists. Considering that more than 40,000 persons died in highway accidents last year, anything that can be done to save lives is vital.

PPP Launched by C. of C. To Build Political Interest

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The businessman's answer to COPE—the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education—is PPP. It stands for Political Participation Program.

As unveiled by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce here, it's an eight-week study course that will cost you $6. This tops labor's "Give a buck to COPE" campaign 600 per cent.

But Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publications and chairman of the USCC committee that planned PPP says:

"Our program is not a reaction to organized labor. We don't want labor and business to meet head-on over politics. That would be disastrous."

"We've had a well organized labor movement in this country for years. It has been promoting progress in its own interests, which is perfectly legitimate. Business has no right to call 'Foul' because there's been no foul."

"THE ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCE," says Motley, "is that COPE is designed to sell issues and candidates who stand for the issues COPE is promoting."

"In contrast to this, PPP is strictly nonpartisan. It can be taken up by any labor organization, business group, church, lodge or women's auxiliary without anyone having to change his views."

"We're not going to issue 'wrong' or 'right' voting lists on legislators, the way COPE does. We're not omniscient on who's right and who's wrong."

SOME PEOPLE ARE DISAPPOINTED that PPP isn't more partisan—more anti-COPE, Mr. Motley admits. They point to the 300,000 union organizers throughout the country who can do political work on the side. They want something to match this.

Motley in turn points out that there are four million businessmen in the country. "If just 10 per cent of them became active in politics," says Motley, "we'd have 400,000 more people working for good government."

To promote PPP, U.S. Chamber of Commerce field men will visit all local chambers of commerce. The field men won't recruit members nor conduct the course. They'll just explain it, show the materials needed and how to use them.

Each member will plunk down his six bucks and get a set of eight varicolored, 50-page pamphlets entitled: The Individual in Politics, Political Party Organization, The Political Precinct, The Political Campaign, Political Clubs, The Political Leader's Problems, Political Meetings, and Businessmen in Politics.

ANYONE COMPLETING the course will theoretically be prepared to become a leader and start a new group. The hope is to get 2,000 or more workshops organized this year.

"If they become active in local politics and take a part in seeing that the best candidates available are nominated for the next elections, the 1960 PPP will take care of itself," says Mr. Motley. "But this is a permanent program," he explains, "not just for 1960."

The U.S. Chamber is making no appropriation to promote PPP this year. But it is handling the printing and promoting job. If it breaks even on that, the program will be considered self-sustaining.

Chamber President William A. McDonnell took the program over to the White House the other day and got President Eisenhower's endorsement on it.

Anyone interested in signing up should get in touch with his local chamber of commerce.

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Shirley Morabito has tasted 700 medicines in the last three years—and never felt better in her life. In fact, she hasn't missed work a single day because of illness. Trying out pills and potions destined for other people is the unusual career of Mrs. Morabito, a medical gourmet with one of the most educated palates in the wonderful world of drugs.

She is chief medicine taster for the Charles Pfizer Pharmaceutical Co.

"It is endlessly fascinating," said Mrs. Morabito. "The taste test is the last step in research. No matter how beneficial a new medicine may be, it has to taste right today to win public acceptance. If people won't take it because they dislike the taste, it can't do them any good."

There are only four basic tastes—salt, sweet, sour and bitter. But they can be masked with thousands of different blended flavors. Unfortunately for mankind, most medicines, new or old, have a bitter taste.

The average person can detect a bitter taste in one fifth of an ounce of caffeine mixed in a quart of water. Mrs. Morabito can detect the same amount of caffeine mixed with 25 quarts of water.

But Mrs. Morabito doesn't depend on her own fine palate. What suits one person may not suit another. So she has assembled and trained a test panel of 40 expert coworkers to help her.

The problem of taste in new children's medicines is even more critical. To assist her in field testing these she has a juvenile jury of some 600 children of company employees.

Both color and taste play a big role in the psychology of medicine.

"Most everyone seems to dislike a brown-colored medicine," said Mrs. Morabito.

"Older people often like a mint-flavored medicine. . . . Children prefer fruit flavors. They like red and orange colors, and they like medicines with a cherry or orange flavor. But the color and taste must match. If you gave them a blue medicine with an orange flavor, they wouldn't like it. It would confuse them."

How to Keep Well

A SCHOOL FITNESS PROGRAM

The physically fit child usually stands erect, walks with a springy step, has a vigorous and alert appearance, and is of normal weight for his height. His eyes are bright, the hair glossy.

In contrast is the child who is underweight for his height, stands slightly slouched with the head set forward, the abdomen protruding, and the knees bent. Many of these youngsters breathe thru the mouth, have dull hair, and prominent shoulder blades.

A New York pediatrician, Dr. Herman Robbins, has found that their impaired growth stems from a variety of causes, including enlarged and chronically diseased tonsils and adenoids and from faulty nutritional and health habits. Others are so active physically and mentally they are kept in a state of chronic exhaustion.

Such children improve when they practice the rules of healthful living and learn self-control. Many need to be motivated to make the necessary changes and it is here that the school can be helpful.

Dr. Robbins recommends the organization of a physical fitness class for pupils who are 7 per cent or more underweight for their height. At a weekly 45 minute meeting, plans are outlined for a daily program of food and rest periods that can be put into practice the entire week. He had the following essential points mimeographed so the youngster can attach the sheet to the inside of the note book:

"Drink three glasses of milk daily; no tea or coffee. No sweets between meals but candy may be eaten right after dinner. Eat slowly; chew food well. Do not wash food down with liquids. Eat some fruits and vegetables every day. During rest periods, lie flat on the back or stomach and open the windows; no reading or studying during these periods. Take long rests Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. Unless permission is given, do not carry on any activities besides school work."

Go to bed at 8 p. m., with the bedroom windows open. The more you eat and rest, the more you will gain."

BLUE BLOODED BABIES

Mrs. J. writes: Why are blue babies blue?

REPLY
Because a defect in the heart allows the blue blood of the veins to mix with the red blood of the arteries. This imparts a bluish cast to the skin, most noticeable in the cheeks, lips, and ears. In the majority, the defect acts as a shunt that prevents a large amount of venous blood from being purified (oxygenated) in the lungs.

KEEP YOUR FLAG FLYING

W. T. writes: Your health hint said "graying hair is a state of mind as well as a visible fact." I'm puzzled. Do you mean a gray haired person has a weak mind?

REPLY
No. My hint was aimed at those who think they are getting old because their hair is getting gray. These are the people who give up when visible signs of aging appear.

WATER BOY

J. L. writes: Does water get stale? I like to drink artesian well water, and when I visit my old home every several months I bring back a large bottle of it that last until my next trip. My friends tell me I'm taking a chance in drinking old water.

REPLY
No, provided the bottle is corked to prevent contamination.

VOICE STRENGTHENING

R. M. writes: What is the best way to strengthen a weak voice?

REPLY
Thru use. The voice can be improved by training, including exercises to develop the breathing mechanism.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Most men and women at some time have heard a call to jury duty. Many have wondered how their bosses would take their absence and how much pay they'd lose.

The answer seems to be that today more and more employers are paying, at least in part, for the time off. More are urging their employees to forego any attempt to shirk the civic duty. This has spread to supervisors now as well as to the rank and file.

The change is shown today in surveys taken two years apart by the national Industrial Conference Board. Some companies pay in full, others in part. Some deduct the jury pay from this sum, others don't.

There are several reasons so many companies now keep the regular pay going.

One has been union pressure. New contracts in the auto industry, for example, call for $5 a day for jury duty of up to 14 days a year.

Another has been a growing sense of civic responsibility by businessmen.

A third reason suggested is that businessmen would like to see the jury system improved and think their people can help.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
(Second of five articles on the teen-age music industry)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eric Hilliard Nelson looks and acts like any teen-ager. He has long, wavy hair, a straight nose and pouting lip, and he shambles when he walks.

He drives a stock Detroit car, but with a stick shift to give it more go. He dresses in good, casual style. He's interested in athletics and girls, too. At 18, he is not too communicative with adults.

But his fellow teen-agers get his message.

When Ricky Nelson gets behind a guitar, he is no longer the shy young man. He strums the chords, screws up his face and moans "My Bucket's Got a Hole in It" or "Don't Leave Me This Way."

The sounds and the rhythms are right out of the mountains and prairies of America—simple, untutored music with no more profound message than unrequited love.

It is with just such songs that Ricky has ascended to the No. 1 spot in the hearts of American teen-agers. He has just collected his sixth gold record (million seller) with "Lonesome Town." His three albums have sold in fantastic numbers.

In 1958, he earned $400,000 without half trying. The majority of this came from record sales. Because he appears on the ABC television show with his parents, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, and brother David, his outside activities are limited. He made only one film, "Rio Gravo," and a few singing appearances—he attracted 47,000 in one day at the Atlantic City Steel Pier.

What does Ricky think of all this?

"I don't know," he says in typical style. "I never see any of the money. It all goes in the bank. If I ever need any money, I just ask my parents for some. I have no idea how much I'm making; all I know is that I'm in a 93 per cent income bracket."

The lad didn't start earning big money until he was 8 years old. That was when he and his brother bumped a couple of radio actors off "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" show. The story goes that the Nelson boys heard the Crosby kids performing on the air with Bing and argued, "If they can do it, why can't we?"

For 10 years in radio and then TV, the nation heard and watched Ricky grow up. A year ago, he decided he wanted to sing as well as act.

His acceptance by the teen-agers is testimony of the musical tastes of that vast, demonstrative audience.

One rival record company president was prompted to comment: "I don't understand how a good musician like Ozzie could let his son sing such poor music."

The teen-agers don't agree with his estimate. To them, Ricky can do no wrong.

(Next: How did teen-agers take over pop music?)

SOCIETY

Cooperation in Brotherhood Week Plans Among Sisterhood Projects

Mrs. B. Levinson, president, conducted the February meeting of the Sisterhood of Tiphereth Israel congregation.

It was announced there will be alternating services on Friday nights, beginning at 8:00 and 9:15 p. m., so that youth may attend the earlier service.

Mrs. Jerry Waxman and Mrs. Myer Berenfield were appointed to the school board, which consists of five members in all, two from the Sisterhood, three from the congregation. Hostesses to serve for February at Warren State Hospital are Mrs. Norman Gross and Mrs. B. Levinson.

There was further discussion of the Testimonial Dinner; Mrs. Dave Demel and Mrs. Eli Gordon volunteered to serve as co-chairmen for planning the menu, with Mrs. Myer Berenfield assisting.

Plans are being made for the annual Purim Party, which is to be held at the synagogue March 24, with Mrs. Punsky chairman for the evening's program and Mrs. I. Trager the refreshments chairman.

National Brotherhood Week will be observed by B'nai B'rith Lodge February 15, when Warren Lodge will have as guests the Men's Bible Class of Grace Methodist church. The following Sisterhood members volunteered to bring refreshments and serve as hostesses: Mrs. D.

Demel, Mrs. N. Gross, Mrs. B. Punsky, Mrs. H. Punsky, Mrs. H. Segal, Mrs. C. Sontag, Mrs. R. Stein, and Mrs. J. Waxman, with Mrs. B. Levinson as chairman.

Speaker for the evening's program was Joseph Williamson, administrator of Warren General Hospital, who gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on that institution. He covered such topics as what is being done to combat infection, plans for modernization of equipment, reasons for high cost of hospital care, cooperation and planning among the 21 professional, semi-professional and laymen groups which comprise the working staff of the hospital.

Mr. Williamson also commented on the Planning Committee, which looks ahead to future needs, such as atomic medicines and physical needs of the hospital. He concluded with the statement "the hospital is well staffed and equipped, and all concerned feel our hospital is a personal service institution, with special and minute attention given the needs and welfare of each patient." After his fine talk, Mr. Williamson devoted some time to answering questions put by the members.

Refreshments for the evening were served by the hostess, Mrs. B. Levinson, Mrs. B. Punsky and Mrs. H. Punsky.

Hardenburg-Viragh Wedding in Duquesne

YOUNGVILLE — Given in marriage by her father, Claudia Marie Viragh, daughter of Claude Viragh of 365 Utah avenue, Duquesne, Pa., became the bride of Barry P. Hardenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hardenburg of 229 East Main street, Youngville, on January 30.

The Rev. William B. Shaughnessy officiated at the double ring ceremony at 9:00 a. m. in Holy Name Roman Catholic church in Duquesne, with the bridegroom's parents among the guests.

The bride appeared in a ball-length gown of white chantilly lace, styled with fitted bodice, peter pan collar and bouffant skirt. A half-hat, accented with sequins, and a face veil completed her ensemble. Her flowers were a corsage of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Yolán Berta, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor; William J. Sullivan, the bride's godfather, was best man.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at Mrs. Berta's home before the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida.

Both young people are graduates of Duquesne University School of Pharmacy. Mrs. Hardenburg is employed at Johnson's Drug Store in Clairton, Pa.; her husband will be stationed in Germany as pharmacist with the U. S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gagliardi, 116 Cayuga avenue, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Rose, to Ned Zaffino, son of Fortunato Zaffino, 7 Wetmore street. Miss Gagliardi, graduated from Warren High School in 1955 and the School of Nursing at Mercy Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1958, is employed on the staff at Mercy. Mr. Zaffino attended Warren High, served three years with the U. S. Marine Corps, and is presently unemployed. No date has been set for the wedding.

Pleasant Unit Hears Panelist Discussion

"Character Training of the Child" was the subject presented by The Rev. J. Edward Lalja, Paul Mutzbaugh and John Stachowiak in a panel discussion before members of Pleasant PTA. All emphasized the importance of early training in the home continuing through added efforts and interest of church, school and community. A lively question period followed.

A brief business session included routine reports and a financial donation to Warren County Probation Association approved. Announcements were made as follows. The Community PTA Council public dessert-card party benefiting the scholarship fund on February 19; a meeting February 10 when executive committee and safety committee members will discuss the township school bus situation.

Mrs. Farr's second grade won the attendance award and refreshments were served by Chairman Mrs. Emory Anthony, Mrs. Doris Grimes, Mrs. Lois Orth, Mrs. Marian Hultman and Mrs. Rosalie Tegeler.

A March 3 fairy meeting is planned with a Boy Scout exhibit, films and speaker from the Forestry department.

First Christmas card created for general distribution was designed and etched by William Egley, of England, in 1842.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO JOHN THOMPSON WRIGHTSVILLE—John Thompson was a honored guest at a family gathering given to celebrate his 82nd birthday Sunday and held at the home of his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allen and children, of Sugar Grove. Others attending were Mrs. John Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Getts, of Clanton. Mrs. Frances Woodward, of Youngsville, was unable to attend.

Dramatics Club Is Presenting Evening of Plays

Warren High School Dramatics Club will present its annual Evening of Plays from the school stage this evening and again on Friday night. The time is 7:30 and the program promises unusual entertainment.

First of the four plays to be presented will be directed by Russell Rudolph and deals with a responsible business man who decides he is in dire need of a rest. It stars Dan Otterbein, who had the lead role in the senior play.

Secondly, a drama will be presented. It is "The Valiant," a stirring story of a condemned criminal. It will star Jack Fallin as Dyke and will be directed by Sandy Shirk.

In the third play, the audience will be taken to sunny Mexico, where, on a quiet Sunday afternoon, it will learn that "Sunday Costs Five Pesos" Olivia Smith will direct this action.

Last, the patrons will see a reluctant actress, a despairing daughter, and a broken-hearted mother in "Never Too Old." This one stars Pat O'Hara and is directed by Steve Pearson. Tickets are priced at 50 cents.

A catastrophe is an accident in which five or more persons are killed.

"Grocery Shopping Needn't Get You in a Tizzy"

I do all my shopping at Nu-Way where I'm sure of lower prices and better values all through the store.

Two pennies saved here and three pennies saved there . . . may not seem like much at the time but I tell you, when you total up grocery savings from just plain smart shopping . . . you've a tidy little sum at the end of a week.

And speaking of better values at lower prices, I want you to be sure and see the pork roasts when you go in Nu-Way this week . . . tender, lean 7-rib cuts at just 33 cents a pound. Over in vegetables . . . red skinned potatoes as fresh as all outdoors, and you'll get a 15-lb. peck for just 39 cents. Land's sake . . . there are savings galore — just like this all over the store.

And, oh yes, if you're going to be real thrifty — all the way that is, then don't you forget your Dollar Doublers. You know they're just two pennies at Nu-Way and you get one for very 25 cents worth of groceries. I say "Fiddlesticks" on those other plans where you might think the premiums are free but the cost of them is hidden in higher grocery prices.

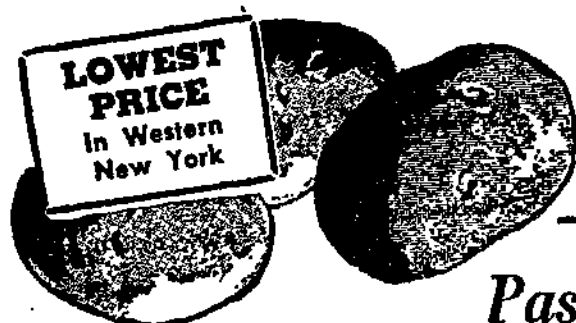

Happy Shopping . . .

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larger supplies of lamb are being reflected this week in the nation's grocery stores by special bargains.

With the Lenten season starting next Wednesday, some stores also are increasing supplies of fish.

The lamb bargains are about evenly divided between leg roasts and chops.

Prices are off 4 cents a pound in scattered areas, while beef prices are steady and pork shows a slight leaning to the downside. Chickens are marked down 2 to 10 cents a point over a wide area. Eggs are cheaper by 2 to 4 cents a dozen.

Potatoes are an outstanding bargain at vegetable counters.

A big spinach crop in Texas makes the leafy vegetable a bargain. So are root crops such as topped beets, parsnips and carrots.

Storage cabbage prices are up but still rated a pretty good buy. So are kale, collard and the like. Western iceberg lettuce is available for reasonably priced salads and onion prices are somewhat weaker. Tomatoes, sweet potatoes and cauliflower are moderately priced.

Apples are plentiful and cheap. California citrus and pears also are on the good buy list. Florida grapefruit, Temple oranges and Tangerines are moderately priced.

Berks Democrats
Take Exception
Over Patronage

READING, Pa. (AP) — The chairman of the Berks County Democratic Committee said Monday night he's postponing county contributions to the party's state committee pending a conference with party leaders on the question of patronage.

John E. Ruth said he wrote State Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, in response to a request for a $10,000 contribution in 1959 from his county.

Ruth mentioned a recent economy order by newly elected Democratic Gov. David L. Lawrence freezing employment in all state departments under the govern-nor's jurisdiction.

In requesting a conference on the issue, Ruth said he told Barr that Democrats in such party strongholds as Allegheny, Philadelphia and Lackawanna counties had been favored with patronage.

He said there's no reason Republican holdovers in appointive jobs should not be dismissed to make room for Democrats.

Ruth did not cite specific examples.

Berks County, home of unsuccessful GOP gubernatorial candidate Arthur T. McGonigle, gave Lawrence a majority in the November election.

Ruth, former district attorney here, is not related to Frank W. Ruth (D-Berks), Senate party whip.

Favors Providing Assistance for Depressed Areas

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to aid chronically depressed areas has another supporter in Pittsburgh's new Rep. William S. Moorhead (D).

Moorhead, chosen last November to succeed the late Rep. Herman P. Eberhart (D) in Pennsylvania's 28th district, said he has a double interest in area redevelopment—both at home and statewide.

"This is a case where if we don't all pull together in Pennsylvania, we'll sink separately," Moorhead said in an interview.

The 35-year-old attorney said he is interested in seeing a diversification of industry to such hard hit areas as Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton, Johnstown and Altoona.

Proposed legislation now before Congress could help accomplish both purposes, Moorhead noted.

Most prominent of the many area redevelopment bills already introduced in the House and Senate is the revival of the Flood-Douglas bill somewhat similar to the measure vetoed by President Eisenhower at the end of the last session.

The new measure would provide nearly 400 million dollars in loans and grants to aid industry to establish in depressed areas and to provide new jobs.

Although eligibility for the federal aid is determined by the degree of unemployment throughout an entire labor market area—which could include a number of counties—there is provision in the new bill for separate parts of a labor market area also to apply for help.

Many New Bills Health Dep't Has Are Introduced Praise For Water In Penn'a House Department Staff

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill making the Pennsylvania Turnpike funds subject to inspection by the auditor general was in House committee today.

Republicans introduced the measure Monday night in a follow-up to an unsuccessful move last year by Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith to audit the Turnpike's accounts.

At that time, the Justice Department ruled that the Turnpike's fund was not state money subject to the auditor general's audits.

Reps. Austin M. Lee (R-Phila.), Stanley G. Stroup (R-Bedford), Robert P. Johnson (R-Montgomery) and George C. Magee Jr. (R - Crawford) introduced the measure (H196) to make the audits part of the law. It further provides that audit costs be supported by Turnpike revenue.

Other new House bills would: Exclude country clubs from liquor license quota restrictions (H200) — Reps. Charles D. Stone (D-Beaver), William F. Renwick (E-Elk), Thomas J. McCormack (D-Phila.) and Michael R. Flynn (D-Washington). Make it unlawful for theater owners to sell more tickets than there are seats (H179) — Rep. Charles J. Mills (D-Westmoreland). Specify that liquor at state stores be sold in containers of at least one quart capacity (H181) — Mills.

Lower the legal juvenile age from 18 to under 16 (H206) — Reps. W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong), Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron) and Magee.

Ohio River basin area of western Pennsylvania where flood damage was exceptionally great, were able to keep water supplied to customers "in spite of unusually high flood waters and operating difficulties."

As a result, Dr. Wilber said, "public health was safeguarded and normal community life was maintained even during the height of the flood."

Sanitary engineers of the state health department, detailed to emergency duty, maintained round-the-clock checks on public water supplies and worked side by side with water works managers and operators to assure continuity of the supplies.

The Secretary said that the health department's Division of Sanitary Engineering had found only one instance of service interruption on a public water supply (Montandon). In that case, he said, an emergency supply of safe water was provided and normal service soon restored.

Dr. Wilber declared that all public water facilities in the

Watchdog Group On Spending Is House Proposal

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 12 member legislative watchdog committee on administrative spending would be set up under a bill in the House today. The committee would be authorized to check on the Commonwealth's fiscal affairs and make recommendations to the Legislature for improving economy and efficiency. The measure H280 was introduced Wednesday by Speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria); Reps. Stephen McCann, House Democratic leader; Albert W. Johnson, House Republican leader; and Norman Wood (R-Lancaster). Other new House bills would: Exempt property owned by non-profit industrial development associations from county taxes H-247,250 — Reps. John Boris (R-Schuylkill), Frank P. Crossin (D-Luzerne) and George W. Heffner (R-Schuylkill). Require drivers whose licenses have been suspended for more than 60 days or whose licenses have been revoked to attend eight weekly driver training classes. H236—Reps. Ruth S. Donahue (R-Clinton) and Jeannette F. Reibman (D-Northampton).

State Senate Wishes Lewis Quick Recovery

HARRISBURG (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, had the State Senate's best wishes for a speedy recovery today. Lewis is ill in a Washington hospital. A resolution sponsored by Sen. Paul W. Mahady D-Westmoreland was endorsed in the upper chamber Wednesday. It noted the union leader's "outstanding services both to labor and the Commonwealth" and extended "wishes for a speedy and quick recovery."

BERLIN OBJECTIVES
WASHINGTON (AP)—George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Moscow, has voiced belief Soviet leaders are prepared to play close to the edge of war to gain their objectives in Berlin. "I do not think the Soviet leaders want war over Berlin," he told the Senate Foreign Relations Disarmament subcommittee. But, he said, in current efforts to force Western troop withdrawals and a free Berlin, Soviet leaders are prepared for reasons not fully apparent, "to play particularly close to the edge."

State, Sectional Honors For 4-H Pair

Two young Pennsylvania 4-Hers won top honors in the 4-H Leadership program. Ronald Wilson, 21, of Waynesburg and Elizabeth Dorr, 19, of Gettysburg, were named state leadership winners, receiving pen and pencil sets. Wilson was also chosen as one of six sectional winners in the U.S. and was awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Wilson has been a member of the East Franklin Agricultural and Electric 4-H Club for 11 years. In that time he served four years as leader of the Greene County Tractor 4-H Club and three years as junior leader of his local club. Wilson has been president of his Methodist Youth Fellowship and secretary-treasurer of his local civil defense. Eight years ago, Miss Dorr launched her leadership career by being elected song leader of the Barlow Home Ec 4-H Club. Since then she has blazed a leadership trail through three 4-H Clubs in her area. She served as local and Adams County 4-H presidents, and proved to be of valuable assistance to local adult 4-H leaders as a junior leader. This 4-H program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service. The awards donor is Edward Foss Wilson.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

D'Amato Still Plays Boxing Cops-and-Robbers Style

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship fight was as good as signed, sealed and delivered for June when Bill Rosenzweig returned from London after the more recent bloody brawl between Henry Cooper and Brian Love.

The site will be either Yankee Stadium or the Los Angeles Coliseum. But Cus D'Amato, the confused and confusing manager of Patterson, continued to act mysteriously. Maybe it's because D'Amato has been playing cops and robbers so long that he doesn't know any other way.

THE TROUBLE WITH D'AMATO is that he was too long confined to the dingy, little gymnasium on New York's 16th Street, trying to get by without working by handling 5-and-10-cent bums. The big break came when Patterson walked in, but instead of making the most of it, D'Amato made a Mack Sennett comedy out of managing the champion in his desire to be a monopoly like the International Boxing Club he was fighting.

Anyway, it's time for D'Amato to quit taking circuitous routes in matching Patterson and give the Brooklyn youngster an opportunity to fulfill early promise. Now that the TBC has been disemboweled by a Supreme Court decision, what has D'Amato got to be afraid of? The fear of being held in contempt and further breaking up Octopus, Inc. kept even the more ruthless associates of James D. Norris from tampering with Rosenzweig's well-laid plans for the first international heavyweight match since Rocky Marciano chewed up Don Cockell.

WHILE MY OWN OPINION is that Johansson should be made to fight in this country before being given the crack at the crown, the fact remains that he presents Patterson with a most attractive opponent.

Rosenzweig obviously is to be the new big promoter, backed by his husband's former employer, Irving Kahn, whose Teleprompter Corporation can be depended upon to do a grand job of peddling this one on closed circuit television.

It was Kahn who bankrolled and sold the totally unattractive Patterson-Roy Harris fight in Los Angeles last August. But with all the cards, D'Amato at first refused to play them. When Edwin Ahlquist arrived from Sweden alone to complete arrangements, D'Amato insisted upon doing business directly with Johansson, ostensibly on the grounds that Ahlquist was a promoter and not the dimpled Swede's manager of record.

D'AMATO HAD ANOTHER POINT here. It is that Johansson is running out on a contract calling for a return match with Eddie Machen, whom he so quickly knocked out in Gothenburg last Sept. 14 to set up the Patterson scrap.

Ahlquist contends he signed this under duress, Sid Flaherty, manager of Machen, threatening to pull out of a show that drew $380,000 unless his tiger was assured of a second edition. A contract having to do with a prize fight has never stood up in court. It is no better than the words of those making it. A striking example was Jim Braddock walking out on Max Baucus to get more money with Joe Louis. But Cus D'Amato remained difficult to the last, insisting on Ingemar Johansson's signature. It is to be hoped that this finally will send Floyd Patterson on his way—in one direction or the other.

BIBLICAL FERRYBOAT
One of the earliest references to a ferryboat is in the Bible. Following the death of his son Absalom, King David was persuaded to return home and a ferryboat was sent to carry over the king's household.

St. Vincent May Give Sec. II Teams Chance in Dist. X

By FRED B. WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Erie Strong Vincent went all the way to the finals last year before dropping out of the PIAA Class A basketball playoffs.

There is some doubt this year, however, whether Ralph Calabrese's club can even make it through its own Dist. 10 playoffs.

There is almost no competition for Vincent in their own Sect. I League.

But the observation on the 1959 team is that it is much slower than past championship teams from the Erie school.

There are a handful of teams from Sect. II that would like a chance to restore the section's traditional dominance of the district. Erie Strong Vincent brought that tradition to an end in 1955 and Sect. II hasn't been the same since.

Franklin currently is leading the section and there are many who think this team, with all five starters back from last year, has the stuff to bring the district title back to Sect. II.

Whatever the merits of this argument, Franklin is in the midst of a four-way scramble for the section championship and has to meet the other three teams—Tusville, Warren and Meadville—

Maybe Vargas Can't Fight But Ask Anthony After Ten

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

It took Ruben Vargas nine years to convince somebody that he could fight.

But when he got through he had a tremendous witness for the complainant. It was Tony Anthony, number one challenger of the light-heavyweight champion, Archie Moore, and clanking for a crack at Floyd Patterson and the big prize.

One of the more extraordinary stories of this or any other year was rather sloughed off by New York sports writers, which isn't unusual these days, with ball clubs vamoosing in wholesale lots, Cus D'Amato doing his best to make a Shock Theater character out of Floyd Patterson, etc.

But let's not put the lead of this highly unusual story in the last paragraph. So, we start with Senior Vargas punching Anthony around for 10 rounds at Madison Square Garden and missing knocking him out only with the help of a very friendly referee who actually picked him up at eight and took his good time rubbing off the gloves.

This is an extraordinary story in several directions, starting with intrigue. And isn't it nice to know that smart practice ex-

Last Home Meet Features Warren And Erie East

If Dragon wrestlers can get by Erie East tonight, they're well on their way to an undefeated season.

Already whipping undefeated Erie Strong Vincent and Titusville, Warren faces their third "tough" opponent within a span of two weeks. East is 8-1 for the season while Warren is 6-0.

Although Larry Campbell will be in starting lineup for the first time in nearly three weeks, two other varsity grapplers will possibly be off the mats for Coach Hal Miller.

Campbell is returning after nursing a shoulder injury. Absent will be Andy Larson from the 154 pound class. "Doc" is taking his test for U. S. Air Force Academy. He will be replaced by up and coming John Wooster. John has capably filled vacant varsity slots a few times this season. Dean Lester has made contact with flu. It is expected that Dean will be back in school today and ready for the meet tonight.

In a discussion on the meet, Hal Miller, also fast becoming known for his excellent gymnastic training program in Warren High School, said "East could prove difficult." Miller's charges are ready to fire back.

This will be the last opportunity local fans will have to see the Blue and White matmen in action in Beaty gym. They have two meets left — both away.

Prelim is 7 p. m., varsity following around 7:45.

Skating Champ Does Good Job At Any Distance

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—American speedskating's jack-of-all trades, Minneapolis' Gene Sandvig, finally found the right distance. And Uncle Sam's Olympic brass breathed easier today.

"Gene's a good man to have on the team," said Coach Eddie Schroeder. "He can turn in a good job at almost any distance, which gives us more flexibility in moving our manpower around."

For the first two days of Olympic trials at Powderhorn Park here, Sandvig looked way off form. Then in Wednesday's 5,000 meters he produced a time of 9:10 third best of the day but good enough to qualify him for the 16-member squad.

Fastest was Keith Meyer of Glen Ellyn, Ill., who had a fine 9:03. Meyer had qualified in the 1,500 meters, however, and was skating to land a spot on the U. S. International team which competes against the world's best last this month.

So former Olympian Sandvig and Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., the fastest two aside from Meyer, made it in the 5,000 meters. Rudolph's time was 9:05. The remaining two slots on the squad were being filled in the 10,000 meters today.

Rookie Prospects

Chicago Cubs

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Bob Scheffing of the Chicago Cubs has starting jobs awaiting two of his prized pitching rookies, right-handers John Buzhardt and John Anderson.

The two youngsters made a tremendous impression on Scheffing last fall with the Cubs. Buzhardt had a perfect 3-0 record. Anderson, of Hammond, Ind., won three and lost three with the Cubs last season.

Another hurler who had a brief stay with the Cubs last year is Marcelino Solis. His sensational work at Fort Worth, where he won 15 and lost 2, earned him a promotion to the Cubs last July. He was used exclusively in relief. Dolan Nichols, a right-hander, is back. Shipped to Fort Worth after dropping four decisions in

Syracuse Nat'l's Lose Fourth in Row to St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Nationals are really hurting this time.

The National Basketball Assn. lost their fourth in a row Wednesday night. The Nats have lost these four by a total of just seven points.

St. Louis took the Nats 113-111, but almost blew an 18-point halftime lead in the process.

In other NBA action, New York broke Boston's six-game winning streak with a 129-126 victory and Phil Jordan threw in a desperate hook shot in the last five seconds of the second overtime period for a 119-117 Detroit victory over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Ed Conlin led a third-period surge that brought Syracuse to 81-83 as the fourth quarter began. The Nats tied the score seven times in the last period.

Clyde Lovellette led St. Louis with 30 points while Conlin topped Syracuse with 23.

Amateur Golfers Talk of Tourney in Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Two amateur golfers were the talk of the tournament today as top-billed professional stars teed off in the first round of the $20,000 Phoenix Open.

Crooner Bang Crosby and football coach Ben Martin both shot a hole-in-one during the pro-am phase of the tourney Wednesday.

Crosby used a 3 iron to sink his ace on the par-3 197-yard ninth hole. It was his fourth hole in one, but first in competition.

Martin, who coached the Air Force Academy to an undefeated season last year, dropped a 3 wood shot into the cup on the 208-yard eleventh hole. It was the first ace for Martin, who was using a set of borrowed clubs.

Veterans of the professional tour said they could not recall another pro-am event when two amateurs sank aces in the same round.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N. Y., and young Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif., cornered a share of the spotlight by posting five under par 65s and pocketing the first payoff of the 72-hole tournament — $225 each as low professionals in the pro-am.

Most of the pros found the 6,602-yard Arizona County Club course rough going with its numerous traps and tree-lined fairways. Eleven of those participating in the pro-am broke the 34-36-70 par.

Dispute Follows Decision in St. Paul TV Battle

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Del Flanagan's flair for setting up controversies pushed him into the middle of another dispute today.

The St. Paul welterweight gained a decision over New Orleans' Ralph Dupas in a televised 10-rounder Wednesday night, but some people weren't convinced.

One of them was Jimmy Perreault, whose judge's scorecard had Dupas winning. Referee Johnny Stanton and Judge Dick Delaney scored it Flanagan.

"This is the worst," said Dupas' manager, Angelo Dundee, "sometimes you expect to get hurt on a hometown decision but you can live with it when the fight has been close. This one was Dupas from start to finish."

It could have gone either way, but it did not appear to be a gift. Flanagan fought strongly through the early rounds, lost momentum in the face of Dupas' fast-moving attack through the seventh, eighth and ninth rounds, but won the 10th on superior physical strength.

The Associated Press scored the fight 97-96 for Flanagan. Newsmen at ringside were almost evenly divided.

There were low blows aplenty on both sides.

Stanton scored it 97-95, Delaney 98-95 and Perreault 97-96 for Dupas.

Flanagan weighed in at 148 pounds, Dupas 142.

Hickey Leads the Warriors to 14th Straight Victory

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Hickey, the little perfectionist with the big shadow of basketball success, is headed for another tournament berth even though he has traded the blue and white of St. Louis for Marquette's Blue and Gold.

The 5-5 bundle of basketball strategy has the Warriors zipping along at a pace no one thought possible when he took control last fall. They nailed their 14th straight and 16th in 17 games Wednesday night, 73-62 over Bowling Green. The Marquette lead was 23 points when Hickey recalled the regulars to the bench with six minutes remaining.

You can be sure he has the Warriors from Milwaukee on the prospect list of both the National Invitation and the National College Tournaments.

Hickey and Marquette took a share of Wednesday night's spotlight from North Carolina and Cincinnati, both of whom fattened their national prestige.

Frank McGuire's Tar Heels, second-ranked nationally, pushed their winning streak to seven, their Atlantic Coast Conference mark to 9-0, and their overall record to 13-1 with 64-57 victory over Maryland. York Larese, one of Carolina's dandy sophomores, scored 32 points.

Fifth-ranked Cincinnati, with All America Oscar Robertson scoring 38 for 33.2 average, crushed a better-than-average Dayton team, 96-74. The Bearcats have won their last nine for a 15-2 ledger.

Robertson Widens His Lead in Scoring Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's All America, widened his lead in the major college basketball scoring race Wednesday night when he tallied 38 points against Dayton and boosted his game average to 33.2. Cincinnati won 96-84.

Only two other members of the top 10 were in action. One, Bob Ayersman of Virginia Tech moved up a notch as he tallied 34 points against The Citadel. He raised his average to 26.9 and replaced Pitt's Don Henon as No. 5 on the list, figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau showed.

Edgar Blair of Western Michigan saw his average drop slightly to 23.5 when he was held to 22 points by Toledo but he remained in ninth place.

Lacrosse, originated centuries ago by Canadian Indians, is considered the oldest game on the North American continent.

Fricassee Rabbit Livers

The livers of 6 cottontails fricassee and served on toast make one of those good wild-life extras to thrill the hands at your table every so often. Drop the livers in a waxed container (such as for cream) and keep in the freezer section of the refrigerator until ready to use.

Thaw the livers and cut into small pieces. Place in saucepan with 1/3 cup diced green pepper, 1/2 cup diced celery, and 1 tablespoon minced onion and cook 20 minutes.

Maillard With Wild Rice And Chestnuts

Wild rice stuffing is a delight in itself and so is chestnut stuffing! When the two are combined in a big tender maillard you have a dish that is truly on the "super" list! Here is how Mrs. Albert Dec of Gary, Ind., does it.

"Cook 1 cup wild rice 40 minutes or until tender, then mix with 1/2 lb. blanched and cooked chestnuts, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 (scant) teaspoon pepper and 2 tablespoons minced onion. This makes approximately 4 cups of stuffing."

Mrs. Dec bakes her ducks in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) 20 to 30 minutes per pound, basting every 10 minutes with orange juice. Before the bird is placed in the oven it is rubbed with onion and salt.

To prepare chestnuts, wash, dry and slit each nut 1/2 inch on each side. Place in saucepan with a little oil and shake over heat 5 minutes. Roast in hot oven (425 degrees) for another 5 minutes. Cool, remove shells and brown skin, and chop.

Perch Roe With Poached Oysters

What is the difference between roe and caviar? Well, they're both fish eggs. Roe are fish eggs while still enclosed in the ovarian membrane. Caviar (usually sturgeon or shad) are fish eggs removed from the sacs and prepared.

Perch roe with poached oysters is a morsel indeed! Parboil roe 15 minutes in vinegar-salt water (3 teaspoons vinegar and 1 teaspoon salt per quart of water). Plunge in cold water for a few minutes, then roll in beaten egg and cracker crumbs and fry until brown.

To poach oysters, melt a little butter in a sauce pan, add oysters and simmer until edges frizzle. Place around fried roe, seasoning oysters with salt and pepper plus 1 drop lemon juice and 1 drop tobacco sauce on each oyster.

Celtics Coach Fined St. Louis Argument

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Celtics Coach Red Auerbach has been fined $100 by National Basketball Assn. President Maurice Podoloff for his actions in St. Louis in a game against the Hawks Jan. 20.

Auerbach was ejected from the game after drawing two technical fouls and engaging in a violent argument with referee Norm Brucker.

When pelted by fans as he left the St. Louis floor in the third period, Auerbach started up into the stands but was restrained by Boston players.

St. Louis went on to defeat Boston 119-114.

NCAA Television Committee Plans 1959 TV Program

CHICAGO (AP)—The NCAA Television Committee today is expected to complete a 1959 program for college football with the possibility of some change from the past two years.

The ratio of national and regional telecasts may be changed, said Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference and the committee's TV program director.

He said there may be consideration for 8 national and 5 regional dates, or 10 national and 3 regional shows. The 1957 and 1958 programs provided for 9 national "game of the week" telecasts and 4 regional telecasts within the 8 NCAA districts.

If the 1959 plan is completed, the basic elements may be announced at once, said Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference, chairman of the 1959 committee.

However, the entire plan will not be announced until the NCAA membership votes in a mail referendum. Approval requires two-thirds majority of those voting.

She said she had no objection to the death penalty but would never agree to life imprisonment because she has claustrophobia, a fear of closed-in places.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—When his car failed to start Wednesday, motorist Joseph Movak lifted the hood and found a penciled note that read:

"Thanks for the use of your battery. I had to use it because mine went dead, and I had a long walk ahead of me, so I took yours."

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Because the city needs revenue, officials decided to swallow pride and honor an irate citizen's checks.

The first one read, "Pay to the order of the thieves of City Hall."

$13.50 for water from a bunch of crooks."

A second one for $9.75 was made out to, "The crooks of City Hall, for a few drops of water and over-charged sewer tax."

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP)—For years one of the familiar sights in the neighborhood was John N. Craig and his boxer dog taking a walk.

Six weeks ago the 13-year-old dog, Danke Schoen, was found to be incurably ill with cancer and a veterinarian put him to death.

Wednesday Craig, 84, was found dead in the cottage where he had lived alone. There was a bullet wound in his head and a revolver by his hand. No notes were found.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Cohen has his own grounds for refusing to testify before a federal grand jury investigating his financial affairs.

"It might incriminate me, and besides I don't trust you," the former gambler told U.S. attorney's aide Robert Jensen Wednesday. Cohen had just refused to give the jury his address.

Cohen was excused with orders to return for another session in two weeks. The jury is trying to find out where the pudgy ex-convict gets his money and whether he owes any income tax on it.

edicos Criticize ouncil Action n Fluoridation

The following self-explanatory letter signed by Warren County Medical Society, President and Secretary, has been received by the president of the Warren borough council:

Warren, Pennsylvania
January 29, 1959
Warren Borough Council
President of Council
Warren, Pennsylvania
Dear Sir:

The Warren County Medical Society was greatly disappointed at the findings and recommendation of the Warren County's Public Service Committee. It was even more of a surprise to hear that council accepted its conclusion and recommendations.

The Warren Borough Council is always accepted the recommendations of its Health Department in matters of disease control and quarantine and so naturally came as a surprise that they rejected the advice of the Health Department, especially since it was so strongly backed by the County Medical Society.

Fluoridation of water supplies is not a rare or uncertain procedure. Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Pittsburgh among the larger cities have instituted fluoridation without any fuss. It has been accepted by every major medical and dental society as a proven, safe way of cutting down dental bills. In Warren the only opposition

East put up his king of hearts at trick one and was so surprised when it held the trick that he returned a trump instead of shifting to a spade. West gathered in his ace and for want of anything better to do led his last trump. South was in the lead and took stock of the situation.

He noted that three no-trump would have been a cinch and that success at four hearts depended on getting out with the loss of only one spade trick. A successful spade guess would handle that but South suspected that West would show up with both the ace and queen. South also noted that if West held both those cards and the queen of diamonds that he could make the hand and proceeded to go ahead on that assumption.

He took his last two trumps and king of diamonds. West let a couple of spades go. Four club leads followed and West had to make another discard. He could not afford to unguard the queen of diamonds so he played the queen of spades.

Now all South had to do was to lead a spade. West took his ace but was forced to lead a diamond into dummy's ace-jack.

Outdoor Manners Project Launched In Forest County

A county committee at a meeting on Monday evening launched the Good Outdoor Manners Educational Project to be conducted in the schools of Forest County.

Initiated by The Pennsylvania Forestry Association, the project starts with a prize award contest that seeks an appropriate name for the trademarked raccoon. Students of all school grades are eligible to participate in the contest. Each student will be issued a book marker, printed in two colors, on which are the raccoon trademark, rules of the contest, prize awards and an entry blank.

Entries are to be turned over to the teachers by March 4. A committee of teachers is to select the 25 best names for the raccoon in the East Forest, and in the West Forest schools. From the 50 entries, a committee of judges is to select three county winners. Then all the names submitted are to be entered in the state-wide contest.

At its first meeting the county committee elected chairman B. K. McGinnis, member of The Pennsylvania Forestry Association; vice chairman, L. A. Haller, president of Forest County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, and secretary, Russell M. Smith, county agricultural agent. Other members of the committee are Norman L. Blum, Forest County Fish Warden; Edward R. Richards, Game Protector, Tionesta; Theodore Dodd, Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters; Karl Saffert, county superintendent of schools, and H. C. Sigworth, supervising principal of West Forest Schools. Richard Finley, principal of East Forest Schools, also is cooperating in the project.

Order Seed's Early For Best Selections

Order seeds early so they'll be available when you need them, suggests County Agent, Bernard Wingert. Store them in a cool, fairly dry location and in a tight, but not airtight, container where mice or insects cannot get at them.

If seeds such as lettuce and spinach are to be held over for fall planting, they can best be stored in a cool, moderately dry location such as in the clothes closet in the house. Some growers prefer to hold them in an icebox, where the temperature is about 40 degrees.

Growers who have already sent in their orders for 1959 have learned a number of the new hybrid varieties are not available. Other sections of the county have bought all of the available seed for this year.

Wingert urges selecting varieties recommended for location and soil type, and also those which are recommended as being resistant to certain diseases. These varieties are always mentioned in the seed catalogues.

In ordering specialty seeds, get only a packet or two and try them a year in advance before making a main planting. The size, shape and color of the new variety may not be suitable for local conditions, or for the market in this area.

Plan Change in Award Of Gas and Oil Leases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of the Interior proposes to change its system of awarding gas and oil leases to put everyone on an equal footing and save wear and tear on departmental records.

Asst. Interior Secretary Roger Ernest said Wednesday the new system would provide a 15-day period at the beginning of each month during which the previous month's cancelled, relinquished or terminated leases would be noted on Bureau of Land Management records.

No application for new leases could be made until the 16th day of the month. Conflicts between applications would be resolved by a drawing procedure. Under the present system, such lands are available for lease as soon as the old leases have expired. This places a premium on rapid searches of records each morning to find lands available for leasing.

Interested parties will have 30 days to file comment on the proposed new system.

Three Injured in Two Mercer Co. Accidents

MERCER, Pa. (AP)—Three persons were injured Tuesday night in two separate auto-train wrecks in Mercer County.

Russell Swogger, 20, of Hadley, was critically hurt when his car collided with a Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad locomotive at a Creenville crossing.

An auto driven by Mrs. Sarah Lloyd, 24, of Kittanning, RD 1, skidded and hit a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train on Route 62 near Jackson Center.

Mrs. Lloyd was reported in satisfactory condition today at Mercer Cottage Hospital. Her brother-in-law, Samuel Lloyd, 39, also of Kittanning RD 1, was treated and released.

There was no immediate indication what action the revolutionary government would take against Nye. He is being held in the Central Havana Jail at National Police headquarters and has been allowed to see U.S. Consular representatives and American newsmen.

In talking with newsmen Monday, the American denied that he had come to Cuba to assassinate Castro and insisted he came to help the rebels. The police statement today said he had made his confession voluntarily and had been well treated by the revolutionary police.

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—The mother of Alan Robert Nye today discounted a Cuban National Police report that her son had confessed to a plot to kill Rebel Chief Fidel Castro.

Mrs. Helen Lynch, mother of the 31-year-old former U.S. naval pilot, told The Associated Press: "Don't you believe what the Cuban police are saying. They get very excited over nothing. They have made up a story. I'm positive my son is innocent."

Did the pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, 59, of Decatur, Mich., a veteran of 30 years and seven million miles with American, come in too low? Was it a possible failure of altimeter instruments? De Witt was killed in the crash.

Was De Witt's age a factor? He was due to be retired next May when he would have reached 60. But he had passed his physical with flying colors.

Weather Plane With Crew of 12 Down in Atlantic

By BERNARD BROWN
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A U.S. Superfortress weather plane and its crew of 12 were missing today and presumed down in the stormy mid-Atlantic.

The big four-engine aircraft had only fuel enough to stay aloft until 3 a.m. today. The search centered about 300 miles northwest of Bermuda where a Japanese freighter reported it saw a burning plane crash Wednesday morning in the Atlantic. Although the freighter said the plane appeared to be a single-engine craft, the four-engine B50 should have been in the general area at the time.

Coast Guard planes and Navy flying boats scanning the area said conditions were foul with 40 mile-an-hour winds, rough seas, and visibility down to 1½ miles.

Names of the 12 men aboard were withheld until next of kin were notified.

The B50 Hurricane Hunter, attached to the 59th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron at Bermuda's Kindley Air Base, set out at 6:45 a.m. Wednesday on a daily flight over the North Atlantic collecting weather data. It was due back at 7:30 p.m.

The Superfortress was last heard from at 8:22 a.m.—13 minutes before the Japanese freighter radioed its report of seeing a plane crash and disappear on hitting the water.

The Coast Guard Cutter Mackinac, based in Bermuda, was racing to the position and was due on the scene this morning. The aircraft carrier Tarawa and six accompanying destroyers, which were on maneuvers in the North Atlantic, were ordered to join in the search.

Proposal

In school and church bombings the draft would provide fines up to $5,000 and imprisonment up to five years for any person fleeing across a state line to avoid arrest or prosecution, or to avoid testifying in a criminal case.

Willful failure to comply with the section on preservation and inspection of voting records would carry penalties up to $1,000 and one year for officials involved. For stealing, destroying or mutilating registration records, the penalty could go up to $5,000 and five years.

In extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission, Rogers would call for an interim report by Sept. 1 this year.

"Two principles basic to our system of government," Eisenhower said, "are that the rule of law is supreme, and that every individual regardless of his race, religion or national origin is entitled to the equal protection of the laws. We must continue to seek every practicable means for reinforcing these principles and making them a reality for all."

"The United States has a vital stake in striving wisely to achieve the goal of full equality under law for all people. On several occasions I have stated that progress toward this goal depends not on laws alone but on building a better understanding."

"It is thus important to remember that any further legislation in this field must be clearly designed to continue the substantial progress that has taken place in the past few years. The recommendations for legislation which I am making have been weighed and formulated with this in mind."

One thing which reportedly came out at the last minute—although Vice President Richard M. Nixon was supposed to have wanted it—was a proposal to let the federal government intervene more directly in school integration suits. This would have been done, under suggestions which were considered at one point, by suits filed by the attorney general in instances in which the government could prove that individuals were fearful of reprisals if they themselves sued.

It was obvious many of the liberals who have been pushing for action to speed school integration would be disappointed on this score. It was equally clear that Southern segregationists would not like most other parts of the program.

Included in the latter category were proposals for inspection of registrars in voting rights cases and for action against those who foment disorder in integration and voting disputes.

Southerners scoffed at a proposal to make a small amount of federal money available to help states plan orderly school integration. Their reaction was passive to a recommendation that the Health, Education and Welfare Department provide funds for the construction of schools for children of military personnel where classrooms have been closed in a fight against integration.

Couple Foiled Trying To Steal Twin Boys

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A former airman from Michigan and his British-born wife tried to sell their 8-year-old twin boys for $500, but the prospective buyers were probing juvenile officers.

Police Wednesday filed charges against Clark Dean Stillion of Brighton, Mich., and his wife, Rosemarie, both 24. Two juvenile officers posing as a married couple, purchased the boys, complete with bill of sale, with marked money.

Stillion said he had been unable to get a job since his release from the Air Force. Both he and his wife were jailed.

The Chamber committee, therefore, will ask for a meeting this week with borough council authorities to present its position and likewise will notify county, state and federal legislators of the necessity for immediate action.

The committee, representing the business community, also issued an invitation to other civic groups to join with them in asking the borough for action that will prevent a recurrence of the 1956 and 1959 floods.

Mr. Goffberg told the committee his company had made no decision on whether to move DeLuxe Metal from Warren although scores of offers from other communities have been received. One nearby city has offered to give DeLuxe a new plant building if it locates there.

17 Americans who were in the plane were returned to U. S. officials. Under persistent U. S. inquiries, Soviet officials insisted they knew nothing about the 11 other Americans.

The summary disclosed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had pressed Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, on his recent visit here, for information about the missing U. S. airmen. It said Mikoyan "denied that the plane had been shot down, asserting it had crashed."

The department's document also disclosed that Dep. Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy tried to play the recording of the Soviet airmen's conversation for Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov. Menshikov refused to listen, it said, and Murphy then gave him a transcript of the recording.

For the first time, publicly, in today's documents, the United States accused the Soviet Union of shooting down the U. S. plane. Heretofore, publicly, the United States has said only that the plane burned and crashed in Soviet Armenia after being "intercepted" by Soviet fighters.

on home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The idea is to attract more lenders' money for the program. The same provision is in the Senate bill.

Halving of the direct loan program in the Senate bill cut its total to $2,775,000,000 for a variety of programs, most of them extending for a period of several years.

Earlier, on two key votes, the Senate: Defeated 58-32 a $1,800,000,000 Republican substitute bill. Seven Democrats and 25 Republicans supported the substitute; 51 Democrats and 7 Republicans opposed it.

Rejected 50-37 a GOP move to eliminate the 35,000 new public housing starts and 16,000 carry-over units from the bill. Thirteen Democrats and 24 Republicans were for this; it was beaten with votes of 43 Democrats and 7 Republicans.

The American secretary goes to Paris tonight and to Bonn for the weekend, then returns to Washington.

Dulles was moving swiftly to set up a Big Four foreign ministers' conference with the Soviet before May 27, the target date initially set by the Russians for them to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied supply lines to West Berlin.

A Big Four conference is expected to be one of the proposals on which Macmillan will sound out the Soviet leaders in Moscow.

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, urging an end to the cold war, today offered Soviet guarantees of Western access to West Berlin if his plan for settling the crisis is accepted.

The Western powers so far have declined to consider the plan, which calls for making West Berlin a United Nations responsibility.

Addressing himself to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Khrushchev said "Mr. Dulles, if you so desire, then for the sake of ending the cold war we are even prepared to admit your victory in this war that is unwanted by the peoples."

"Regard yourselves, gentlemen, as victors in this war, but end it quickly." The Soviet leader addressed the closing session of the 21st Congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Police Still Seeking Clues to Girl's Murder

IRWIN, Pa. (AP)—Investigators of the slaying of 15-year-old Marcia Cordon of Shawtown are awaiting results of tests on three possible clues.

State Police Sgt. William J. Smith said the directions of the probe will depend on the outcome of the tests at the state police laboratory in Harrisburg.

Being studied are strands of clothing found on a barbed wire fence near a small stream where Marcia's body was discovered Saturday night, and an automobile floor mat and a pair of gloves, found in the vicinity.

A team of investigators has been working 18 hours a day checking out leads and questioning scores of persons. But they have not singled out any suspects yet.

A spokesman for the group said the attempt to shatter the 142,000-foot record would be made Friday.

Release of a three-million-cubic-foot balloon was to have been the second in a series of experiments to probe and measure cosmic ray intensities and atmospheric particle composition at various phases of solar activity, Dr. Frank McDonald of the University of Iowa said.

3,000 Meadville Residents Still Unable to Return Home

By CHARLES A. WELSH

Two weeks ago a record flood rolled into Meadville along French Creek, swollen by an unusual January thaw and rain-storm. The gorge below the city backed water 6 feet deep into lowland residential and industrial areas. Mayor Simonetta counts damages at nearly five million dollars.

Some 3,000 residents have been unable to return to their ice-encrusted homes. Huge chunks of ice litter the streets and lawns in areas where the flood has receded.

So long as the gorge endures a repeat of the rain and thaw could bring a new flood in hours. Even today, French Creek is only 2½ feet below the 57.3 foot flood stage. The recent crest was 62.5 feet.

In that situation the community appealed for disaster assistance. The specialized blasting crews of the Army's XXI Corps moved in from Fort Meade, Md., under Col. Thomas Mifflin.

They have been chewing at the ice since Jan. 29. Wednesday was a busy, noisy day. Helicopters buzzed overhead, came down onto the ice to plant some charges. Jeeps trundled TNT to blasting crews clambering along the stream.

When the work was ended Col. Mifflin counted 3,500 pounds of TNT exploded, 2800 feet of stream cleared. At that it is an expensive operation. TNT costs 50 cents a pound.

The ice is six feet and more thick in places, sometimes in three layers. It is laced with and reinforced by logs and trees and other debris.

The size of the explosive charges must be reduced as the clearing operation draws nearer to Meadville homes and factories.

REPORT SAYS GENERAL MOTORS INVESTIGATED

General Motors is the world's largest producer of cars. It makes Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks, Pontiacs and Chevrolets.

The Justice Department, looking into what it calls undue concentration in the automobile industry, Wednesday subpoenaed extensive records of the Detroit corporation.

ROCHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Police and firemen continued efforts today to pinpoint the source of gasoline which has leaked into the community's sewer system.

"It's a serious situation," said Fire Chief F. J. Heuring. He said special meters showed one downtown sewer outlet to be highly explosive from a heavy concentration of gasoline. A hose poured water overnight into the outlet to wash the fuel away.

Medicos Criticize Council Action on Fluoridation

The following self-explanatory letter signed by Warren County Medical Society, President and Secretary, has been received by the president of the Warren borough council:

Warren, Pennsylvania
January 29, 1959

Warren Borough Council
c/o President of Council
Warren, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

The Warren County Medical Society was greatly disappointed at the findings and recommendation of the Warren County Public Service Committee, was even more of a surprise to hear that council accepted their conclusion and recommendations.

The Warren Borough Council is always accepted the recommendations of its Health Department in matters of disease control and quarantine and so naturally came as a surprise when they rejected the advice of the Health Department, especially since it was so strongly backed by the County Medical Society.

Fluoridation of water supplies is not a rare or uncertain procedure. Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Pittsburgh among the larger cities have instituted fluoridation without any fuss. It has been accepted by every major Medical and Dental Society as a proven, safe way of cutting down dental bills.

He noted that three no-trump would have been a cinch and had success at four hearts depended on getting out with the loss of only one spade trick. A successful spade guess would handle that but South suspected that West would show up with both the ace and queen. South also noted that if West held both those cards and the queen of diamonds that he could make the hand and proceeded to go ahead on that assumption.

He took his last two trumps and king of diamonds. West let a couple of spades go. Four club leads followed and West had to make another discard. He could not afford to unguard the queen of diamonds so he played the queen of spades. Now all South had to do was to lead a spade. West took his ace but was forced to lead a diamond into dummy's ace-jack.

Outdoor Manners Project Launched in Forest County

A county committee at a meeting on Monday evening launched the Good Outdoor Manners Educational Project to be conducted in the schools of Forest County.

Initiated by The Pennsylvania Forestry Association, the project starts with a prize award contest that seeks an appropriate name for the trademarked raccoon.

Students of all school grades are eligible to participate in the contest. Each student will be issued a book marker, printed in two colors, on which are the raccoon trademark, rules of the contest, prize awards and an entry blank.

Entries are to be turned over to the teachers by March 4. A committee of teachers is to select the 25 best names for the raccoon in the East Forest, and in the West Forest schools. From the 50 entries, a committee of judges is to select three county winners. Then all the names submitted are to be entered in the state-wide contest.

At its first meeting the county committee elected chairman B. K. McGinnis, member of The Pennsylvania Forestry Association; vice chairman, L. A. Haller, president of Forest County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, and secretary, Russell M. Smith, county agricultural agent. Other members of the committee are Norman L. Blum, Forest County Fish Warden; Edward R. Richards, Game Protector, Tonawanda; Theodore Dodd, Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters; Karl Schifert, county superintendent of schools, and H. C. Schwoh, supervising principal of West Forest Schools. Richard Finley, principal of East Forest Schools, also is cooperating in the project.

Order Seeds Early For Best Selections

Order seeds early so they'll be available when you need them, suggests County Agent, Bernard Wingert. Store them in a cool, fairly dry location and in a tight, but not airtight, container where mice or insects cannot get at them.

If seeds such as lettuce and spinach are to be held over for fall planting, they can best be stored in a cool, moderately dry location such as in the clothes closet in the house. Some growers prefer to hold them in an icebox, where the temperature is about 40 degrees.

Growers who have already sent in their orders for 1959 have learned a number of the new hybrid varieties are not available. Other sections of the county have bought all of the available seed for this year.

Wingert urges selecting varieties recommended for location and soil type, and also those which are recommended as being resistant to certain diseases. These varieties are always mentioned in the seed catalogues.

In ordering specialty seeds, get only a packet or two and try them a year in advance before making a main planting. The size, shape and color of the new variety may not be suitable for local conditions, or for the market in this area.

Plan Change in Award Of Gas and Oil Leases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of the Interior proposes to change its system of awarding gas and oil leases to put everyone on an equal footing and save wear and tear on departmental records.

Asst. Interior Secretary Roger Ernest said Wednesday the new system would provide a 15-day period at the beginning of each month during which the previous month's cancelled, relinquished or terminated leases would be noted on Bureau of Land Management records.

No application for new leases could be made until the 15th day of the month. Conflicts between applications would be resolved by a drawing procedure. Under the present system, such lands are available for lease as soon as the old leases have expired. This places a premium on rapid searches of records each morning to find lands available for leasing.

Interested parties will have 30 days to file comment on the proposed new system.

Three Injured in Two Mercer Co. Accidents

MERCER, Pa. (AP)—Three persons were injured Tuesday night in two separate auto-train wrecks in Mercer County.

Russell Swogger, 20, of Hadley, was critically hurt when his car collided with a Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad locomotive at a Greenville crossing.

An auto driven by Mrs. Sarah Lloyd, 24, of Kittanning, RD 1, skidded and hit a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train on Route 62 near Jackson Center.

Mrs. Lloyd was reported in satisfactory condition today at Mercer Cottage Hospital. Her brother-in-law Samuel Lloyd, 39, also of Kittanning RD 1, was treated and released.

There was no immediate indication what action the revolutionary government would take against Nye. He is being held in the Central Havana jail at National Police headquarters and has been allowed to see U.S. Consular representatives and American newsmen.

In talking with newsmen Monday, the American denied that he had come to Cuba to assassinate Castro and insisted he came to help the rebels. The police statement today said he had made his confession voluntarily and had been well treated by the revolutionary police.

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—The mother of Alan Robert Nye today discounted a Cuban National Police report that her son had confessed to a plot to kill Rebel Chief Fidel Castro.

Mrs. Helen Lynch, mother of the 31-year-old former U.S. naval pilot, told The Associated Press: "Don't you believe what the Cuban police are saying. They get very excited over nothing. They have made up a story. I'm positive my son is innocent."

Did the pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, 59, of Decatur, Mich., a veteran of 30 years and seven million miles with American, come in too low? Was it a possible failure of altimeter instruments? De Witt was killed in the crash.

Was De Witt's age a factor? He was due to be retired next May when he would have reached 60. But he had passed his physical with flying colors.

Joseph O. Fluet, chief safety director for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the plane, flight 320 from Chicago was "fairly well aligned with the runway, possibly a bit to the right." Fluet heads a team of 25 investigators.

Weather Plane With Crew of 12 Down in Atlantic

By BERNARD BROWN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A U.S. Superfortress weather plane and its crew of 12 were missing today and presumed down in the stormy mid-Atlantic.

The big four-engine aircraft had only fuel enough to stay aloft until 3 a.m. today.

The search centered about 300 miles northwest of Bermuda where a Japanese freighter reported it saw a burning plane crash Wednesday morning in the Atlantic. Although the freighter said the plane appeared to be a single-engine craft, the four-engine B-50 should have been in the general area at the time.

Coast Guard planes and Navy flying boats scanning the area said conditions were foul with 40 mile-an-hour winds, rough seas, and visibility down to 1½ miles.

Names of the 12 men aboard were withheld until next of kin were notified.

The B-50 Hurricane Hunter, attached to the 59th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron at Bermuda's Kindley Air Base, set out at 6:45 a.m. Wednesday on a daily flight over the North Atlantic collecting weather data. It was due back at 7:30 p.m.

The Superfortress was last heard from at 8:22 a.m.—18 minutes before the Japanese freighter radioed its report of seeing a plane crash and disappear on hitting the water.

The Coast Guard Cutter Mackinac, based in Bermuda, was racing to the position and was due on the scene this morning. The Aircraft Carrier Tarawa and six accompanying destroyers, which were on maneuvers in the North Atlantic, were ordered to join in the search.

Proposal

In school and church bombings the draft would provide fines up to $5,000 and imprisonment up to five years for any person fleeing across a state line to avoid arrest or prosecution, or to avoid testifying in a criminal case.

Willful failure to comply with the section on preservation and inspection of voting records would carry penalties up to $1,000 and one year for officials involved. For stealing, destroying or mutilating registration records, the penalty could go up to $5,000 and five years.

In extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission, Rogers would call for an interim report by Sept. 1 this year.

"Two principles basic to our system of government," Eisenhower said, "are that the rule of law is supreme, and that every individual regardless of his race, religion or national origin is entitled to the equal protection of the laws. We must continue to seek every practicable means for reinforcing these principles and making them a reality for all."

"The United States has a vital stake in striving wisely to achieve the goal of full equality under law for all people. On several occasions I have stated that progress toward this goal depends not on laws alone but on building a better understanding."

"It is thus important to remember that any further legislation in this field must be clearly designed to continue the substantial progress that has taken place in the past few years. The recommendations for legislation which I am making have been weighed and formulated with this in mind."

One thing which reportedly came out at the last minute—although Vice President Richard M. Nixon was supposed to have wanted it—was a proposal to let the federal government intervene more directly in school integration suits. This would have been done, under suggestions which were considered at one point, by suits filed by the attorney general in instances in which the government could prove that individuals were fearful of reprisals if they themselves sued.

It was obvious many of the liberals who have been pushing for action to speed school integration would be disappointed on this score. It was equally clear that Southern segregationists would not like most other parts of the program.

Included in the latter category were proposals for inspection of registrars' books in voting rights cases and for action against those who foment disorder in integration and voting disputes.

Southerners scoffed at a proposal to make a small amount of federal money available to help states plan orderly school integration. Their reaction was passive to a recommendation that the Health, Education and Welfare Department provide funds for the construction of schools for children of military personnel where classrooms have been closed in a fight against integration.

Couple Foiled Trying To Steal Twin Boys

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A former airman from Michigan and his British-born wife tried to sell their 8-year-old twin boys for $500, but the prospective buyers were probing juvenile officers.

Police Wednesday filed charges against Clark Dean Sillion of Brighton, Mich., and his wife, Rosemarie, both 24. Two juvenile officers posing as a married couple, purchased the boys, complete with bill of sale, with marked money.

Sillion said he had been unable to get a job since his release from the Air Force. Both he and his wife were jailed.

test all sections of the borough that are periodically hit by the high water. The Chamber committee, therefore, will ask for a meeting this week with borough council authorities to present its position and likewise will notify county, state and federal legislators of the necessity for immediate action.

The committee, representing the business community, also issued an invitation to other civic groups to join with them in asking the borough for action that will prevent a recurrence of the 1956 and 1959 floods.

Mr. Gofberg told the committee his company had made no decision on whether to move DeLuxe Metal from Warren although scores of offers from other communities have been received. One nearby city has offered to give DeLuxe a new plant building if it locates there.

17 Americans who were in the plane were returned to U. S. officials. Under persistent U. S. inquiries, Soviet officials insisted they knew nothing about the 11 other Americans.

The summary disclosed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had pressed Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, on his recent visit here, for information about the missing U. S. airmen. It said Mikoyan "denied that the plane had been shot down, asserting it had crashed."

The department's document also disclosed that Dep. Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy tried to play the recording of the Soviet ambassador's conversation for Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov. Menshikov refused to listen, it said, and Murphy then gave him a transcript of the recording.

For the first time, publicly, in today's documents, the United States accused the Soviet Union of shooting down the U. S. plane. Heretofore, publicly, the United States has said only that the plane burned and crashed in Soviet Armenia after being "intercepted" by Soviet fighters.

Halving of the direct loan program in the Senate bill cut its total to $2,775,000,000 for a variety of programs, most of them extending for a period of several years.

Earlier, on two key votes, the Senate: Defeated 58-32 a $1,800,000,000 Republican substitute bill. Seven Democrats and 25 Republicans supported the substitute; 51 Democrats and 7 Republicans opposed it.

Rejected 50-37 a GOP move to eliminate the $5,000 new public housing starts and 16,000 carry-over units from the bill. Thirteen Democrats and 24 Republicans were for this; it was beaten with votes of 43 Democrats and 7 Republicans.

The American secretary goes to Paris tonight and to Bonn for the weekend, then returns to Washington.

Dulles was moving swiftly to set up a Big Four foreign ministers' conference with the Soviet before May 27, the target date initially set by the Russians for them to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied supply lines to West Berlin.

A Big Four conference is expected to be one of the proposals on which Macmillan will sound out the Soviet leaders in Moscow.

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, urging an end to the cold war, today offered Soviet guarantees of Western access to West Berlin if his plan for settling the crisis is accepted.

The Western powers so far have declined to consider the plan, which calls for making West Berlin a United Nations responsibility.

Addressing himself to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Khrushchev said "Mr. Dulles, if you so desire, then for the sake of ending the cold war we are even prepared to admit your victory in this war that is unwanted by the peoples."

"Regard yourselves, gentlemen, as victors in this war, but end it quickly." The Soviet leader addressed the closing session of the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Police Still Seeking Clues to Girl's Murder

IRWIN, Pa. (AP)—Investigators of the slaying of 15-year-old Marcia Cordon of Shawtown are awaiting results of tests on three possible clues.

State Police Sgt. William J. Smith said the directions of the probe will depend on the outcome of the tests at the state police laboratory in Harrisburg.

Being studied are strands of clothing found on a barbed wire fence near a small stream where Marcia's body was discovered Saturday night, and an automobile floor mat and a pair of gloves, found in the vicinity.

A team of investigators has been working 18 hours a day checking out leads and questioning scores of persons. But they have not singled out any suspects yet.

Huge Balloon May Be Released in Texas

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—Mechanical difficulties today delayed release of a huge balloon with which scientists hoped to attain a world's record altitude for unmanned balloons.

A spokesman for the group said the attempt to shatter the 142,000-foot record would be made Friday. Release of a three-million-cubic-foot balloon was to have been the second in a series of experiments to probe and measure cosmic ray intensities and atmospheric particles composition at various phases of solar activity, Dr. Frank McDonald of the University of Iowa said.

3,000 Meadville Residents Still Unable to Return Home

By CHARLES A. WELISH

Two weeks ago a record flood rolled into Meadville along French Creek, swollen by an unusual January thaw and rainstorm. The gorge below the city backed water 6 feet deep into lowland residential and industrial areas. Mayor Simonetta counts damages at nearly five million dollars.

Some 3,000 residents have been unable to return to their ice-encrusted homes. Huge chunks of ice litter the streets and lawns in areas where the flood has receded.

So long as the gorge endures a repeat of the rain and thaw could bring a new flood in hours. Even today, French Creek is only 2½ feet below the 57.3 foot flood stage. The recent crest was 62.5 feet.

In that situation the community appealed for disaster assistance. The specialized blasting crews of the Army's XXI Corps moved in from Fort Meade, Md., under Col. Thomas Mifflin.

They have been chewing at the ice since Jan. 29.

Wednesday was a busy, noisy day. Helicopters buzzed overhead, came down onto the ice to plant some charges. Jeeps trundled TNT to blasting crews clambering along the stream.

When the work was ended Col. Mifflin counted 3,500 pounds of TNT exploded, 2800 feet of stream cleared. At that it is an expensive operation. TNT costs 50 cents a pound.

The ice is six feet and more thick in places, sometimes in three layers. It is laced with and reinforced by logs and trees and other debris.

The size of the explosive charges must be reduced as the clearing operation draws nearer to Meadville homes and factories.

Report Says General Motors Investigated

General Motors is the world's largest producer of cars. It makes Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks, Pontiacs and Chevrolets.

The Justice Department, looking into what it calls undue concentration in the automobile industry, Wednesday subpoenaed extensive records of the Detroit corporation.

The Nature Parent
Parent Might Look to Self For Cause of Tattling Child
By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Lynn didn't rush into the kitchen with her complaint. Instead, she came hesitatingly, waiting for a moment at the table to watch her mother peeling apples before she said whiningly, "Bobby's got the TV cartoons on again and won't let me look at the movie."

"Tattling on Bobby again?" her mother asked. "How do you expect him to be nice to you when you carry tales about him all the time?" She spoke with the irritation many of us feel toward the tattletale child.

Our irritation is natural. It is not easy to feel affectionate respect for the tattletale's fear of making open demands. But as we are apt to be the people who have induced this fear in him, our irritation—though natural—is unreasonable.

What Lynn wanted to say to her mother was, "Make Bobby give me my turn at choosing a TV program."

Why didn't she say it? Well, Lynn's mother dislikes the inconvenience of friction between her children. When, as a younger sister, Lynn used to make open, vigorous protests against Bobby's habit of snatching her books, crayons and doll house furniture, her mother evaded these demands for support of her rights.

To avoid the roars that Bobby would emit if required to restore his sister's property, she'd find excuses to permit him to keep it. She'd say, "If you just leave him alone, he'll give you back your doll house lamp. If you didn't let him ride you so, he'd stop teasing you. Why can't you remember that Bobby is three years younger than you are?"

So Lynn lost confidence in the straightforward demands that got her disapproval instead of support. Now when Bobby infringes on her rights, she's reduced to concealing them in the complaints we call "tattling."

Certainly the tattling child is unattractive. But I don't know what we expect him to do with his fear of open demands. Perhaps we want to turn him into a total Milquetoast, accepting everything, protesting nothing. Surely our condemnation of his tattling suggests that's what we want to do. It's another indication of our old disinterest in his rights to justice. We want no protest at all.

Daintiness Is Important in Winter

IT'S MISTAKE TO OVERLOOK THIS ROUTINE

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The tendency to be careless about deodorants in winter stems from the notion that once days in the sun are over, there's really no need to bother.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Most American homes and apartments are cosily heated. This, along with the fact that we all wear woolen clothing, makes the use of a deodorant essential all winter long.

Using one is both simple and pleasant these days. Most deodorants are delightfully scented and colored and come in most attractive containers. One of the nicest is a cool blue liquid that flows on smoothly from a bottle topped with a sponge applicator.

It should be used after each bath or shower. It's designed to provide day-long protection but the need for deodorant varies from person to person. The safest method is to use it as often as it seems to be needed.

The winter months, with woolen clothes and indoor heating, make frequent use of a deodorant essential. This girl uses one that sponges on the liquid in seconds.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Here's an exchange of opinions with Mrs. Clyde Evans of Biloxi, Miss., who undoubtedly expresses the sentiments of millions of American television viewers.

She writes: "In today's paper you wrote, 'The coming seven days can't be called the most memorable week of the season on television, but there are several programs worth the twist of a dial.'"

"I'd like to ask, along with dozens of other TV watchers, how you arrive at such conclusions? Why must we observe dozens of boring scientific programs or an hour of Philharmonic music to be spending our time wisely?"

"Most people can read all they care to in the daily newspapers or take a course in night school if they are interested. We enjoy an occasional 15 minutes about rockets, mental illness, bop, jazz or the classics. "We are dull, unthinking people by Sunday and would prefer to be entertained with 'Andy Hardy' and 'Shirley Temple' rather than 'Kaleidoscope' and '20th Century.' We get the condition of education in our P.T.A., thoughts on the spiritual condition of our country in our church."

"Please tell me what's wrong with escaping a few hours a week into the Westerns that are fantastic but unfrightening, or laughing with Lucy, Bob Cummings, George Burns or Bob Hope or Benny? As a housewife I also don't watch too often. Most of the dramas are either dull or too deep."

In reply to Mrs. Evans: My opinions on 'pick of the week' programs might be construed as condescending to all programs I don't mention, I realize. But I am asked to give my personal preferences each week, and that they are. The fact that I'd rather watch '20th Century' than a Western doesn't mean I'm smarter than you. Rather, it means that I expect something different from television than you do.

Personally, I want television to stimulate me rather than relax me. But I don't expect it to do that every time I turn on the set. There is absolutely nothing wrong that I can imagine in escaping for a few hours each week into television's fantasyland. But you and many other viewers constantly suggest that television should be only a relaxing agent — never a stimulant.

Commercial television, as now constituted, is devoted almost totally to the type of programs you — and I, too, in moderation — enjoy. Let's hope it never fails to devote a few hours weekly to the type of program that I — and you, too, in moderation — enjoy.

Your Forest Ranger

L. E. Stotz

In 1910, the Forest Products Laboratory was created as a research institution on the University of Wisconsin campus under an agreement with the U. S. Forest Service.

The end of our virgin forests—resources that had accumulated in the remote past—was already within sight. Soon the nation would have to depend upon the annual growth for its supply of wood. Now, nearly a half century later, only the far west still yields any amount of timber accumulated from the remote past.

On most of the forest land in the United States, harvesting of a forest crop must be limited each year to the amount of the annual growth. Any cutting that exceeds that amount will only further deplete the forest capital.

As our old growth forests were cut and burned, or simply "culled over"—a process that left only the poorer quality trees and those of inferior species—the second growth that resulted contained much material for which there was no market.

It is through forest research, whether at the Forest Products Laboratory or in private industry laboratories, that ways must be found to utilize all of the annual growth from these second growth forests so that the nation's timber needs may be met.

There are four basic problems in forest research that must be solved if our expanding population is to fill its timber needs.

Somehow we must find ways to replace softwood lumber in some uses with relatively plentiful hardwoods which are harder to cut and nail, harder to season, harder to keep from splitting and warping.

Somehow we must find uses for the low-quality stands, the little-used species, the thinnings of young forests, both to meet our wood requirements and to help timber producers finance the stupendous task of restoring the quality of our forests.

Somehow we must do a more efficient job of using what we harvest—the limbs and tops and damaged trees now left behind in logging, the sawdust and shavings and other mill residue.

And finally, we must somehow find means of making wood products of all kinds more serviceable, more resistant to decay and fire and insects, and more durable in use.

Unless these four problems are solved, we will not be able to pass along to our children and our grandchildren forests and forest products on a scale equal to that we ourselves enjoy.

Daintiness Is Important in Winter

IT'S MISTAKE TO OVERLOOK THIS ROUTINE

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The winter months, with woolen clothes and indoor heating, make frequent use of a deodorant essential. This girl uses one that sponges on the liquid in seconds.

The tendency to be careless about deodorants in winter stems from the notion that once days in the sun are over, there's really no need to bother.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Most American homes and apartments are cosily heated. This, along with the fact that we all wear woolen clothing, makes the use of a deodorant essential all winter long.

Using one is both simple and pleasant these days. Most deodorants are delightfully scented and colored and come in most attractive containers. One of the nicest is a cool blue liquid that flows on smoothly from a bottle topped with a sponge applicator. It should be used after each bath or shower. It's designed to provide day-long protection but the need for deodorant varies from person to person. The safest method is to use it as often as it seems to be needed.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Here's an exchange of opinions with Mrs. Clyde Evans of Biloxi, Miss., who undoubtedly expresses the sentiments of millions of American television viewers.

She writes: "In today's paper you wrote, 'The coming seven days can't be called the most memorable week of the season on television, but there are several programs worth the twist of a dial.'"

"I'd like to ask, along with dozens of other TV watchers, how you arrive at such conclusions? Why must we observe dozens of boring scientific programs or an hour of Philharmonic music to be spending our time wisely?"

"Most people can read all they care to in the daily newspapers or take a course in night school if they are interested. We enjoy an occasional 15 minutes about rockets, mental illness, bop, jazz or the classics.

"We are dull, unthinking people by Sunday and would prefer to be entertained with 'Andy Hardy' and 'Shirley Temple' rather than 'Kaleidoscope' and '20th Century.' We get the condition of education in our P.T.A., thoughts on the spiritual condition of our country in our church.

"Please tell me what's wrong with escaping a few hours a week into the Westerns that are fantastic but unfrightening, or laughing with Lucy, Bob Cummings, George Burns or Bob Hope or Benny? As a housewife I also enjoy the soap operas if I don't watch too often. Most of the dramas are either dull or too deep.

In reply to Mrs. Evans: My opinions on 'pick of the week' programs might be construed as condescending to all programs I don't mention, I realize. But I am asked to give my personal preferences each week, and that they are. The fact that I'd rather watch '20th Century' than a Western doesn't mean I'm smarter than you. Rather, it means that I expect something different from television than you do.

Personally, I want television to stimulate me rather than relax me. But I don't expect it to do that every time I turn on the set.

There is absolutely nothing wrong that I can imagine in escaping for a few hours each week into television's fantasyland. But you and many other viewers constantly suggest that television should be only a relaxing agent — never a stimulant.

Commercial television, as now constituted, is devoted almost to tally to the type of programs you — and I, too, in moderation — enjoy. Let's hope it never fails to devote a few hours weekly to the type of program that I — and you, too, in moderation — enjoy.

Your Forest Ranger L. E. Stoltz

In 1910, the Forest Products Laboratory was created as a research institution on the University of Wisconsin campus under an agreement with the U. S. Forest Service.

The end of our virgin forests—resources that had accumulated in the remote past—was already within sight. Soon the nation would have to depend upon the annual growth for its supply of wood. Now, nearly a half century later, only the far west still yields any amount of timber accumulated from the remote past.

On most of the forest land in the United States, harvesting of a forest crop must be limited each year to the amount of the annual growth. Any cutting that exceeds that amount will only further deplete the forest capital.

As our old growth forests were cut and burned, or simply "culled over"—a process that left only the poorer quality trees and those of inferior species—the second growth that resulted contained much material for which there was no market.

It is through forest research, whether at the Forest Products Laboratory or in private industry laboratories, that ways must be found to utilize all of the annual growth from these second growth forests so that the nation's timber needs may be met.

There are four basic problems in forest research that must be solved if our expanding population is to fill its timber needs.

Somehow we must find ways to replace softwood lumber in some uses with relatively plentiful hardwoods which are harder to cut and nail, harder to season, harder to keep from splitting and warping.

Somehow we must find uses for the low-quality stands, the little-used species, the thinnings of young forests, both to meet our wood requirements and to help timber producers finance the stupendous task of restoring the quality of our forests.

Somehow we must do a more efficient job of using what we harvest—the limbs and tops and damaged trees now left behind in logging, the sawdust and shavings and other mill residue.

And finally, we must somehow find means of making wood products of all kinds more serviceable, more resistant to decay and fire and insects, and more durable in use.

Unless these four problems are solved, we will not be able to pass along to our children and our grandchildren forests and forest products on a scale equal to that we ourselves enjoy.

System of Imprisoning and Freeing Prisoners Debated

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three judges, two law enforcement officers and a city welfare official agree that Pennsylvania's system of imprisoning and freeing criminals could use many changes.

One of the judges, Justice Thomas D. McBride of the State Supreme Court, said a system he favors would do away with the State Board of Pardons.

McBride and the others appeared Sunday on the televised (WCAU) Bulletin Forum program, "Are we too soft on criminals?"

McBride, once a prominent criminal lawyer, said courts often err in their sentences—either too severe or too light, and parole and pardons officials, he declared, often release prisoners too early or too late.

He proposed that judges be given the power to sentence an offender to either a county or state institution. County sentences would be something less than two years. State sentences would be a minimum of one year, with a maximum of 10 or 20.

The decision on when to free a criminal would rest with the prison officials, since they would best know the man and his progress.

Thus men imprisoned for the same type of crime would face the same penalty. It would eliminate wide variations in sentencing and the resultant hard feelings among prisoners, McBride contended.

Under this system, McBride said "you wouldn't need the Board of Pardons, you wouldn't meet all the hue and cry that comes whenever clemency is recommended to the governor."

In exchange with Dist. Atty. Victor Blanc, McBride declared "it isn't true that Pennsylvania has coddled its murderers." Blanc had said the average prison term for a convicted murderer in Pennsylvania is 18 years, seven months. "And the national average is 10½," McBride retorted.

President Judge Adrien Bonnell of Philadelphia Municipal Court proposed taking sentencing entire-

Hydraulic Engineer of the Wild Season Opens Feb. 14

Beaver. A water work horse. The large, water-going rodents will be the sight of many a trapper as season on beavers opens Saturday, Feb. 14 at 7 a. m.

Usual do's and don'ts are in order for trappers:

Only 10 traps to a person. Traps must not be set on the structure of any beaver dam or house or within 25 feet of waterline. A metal name tag shall identify each trap. Tags must be kept above ice or waterline to facilitate identification without disturbing traps.

Beaver pelts to be tagged within 10 days after close of season (March 21). May not be sold or otherwise disposed of until a Game Protector attaches an official seal on each.

Nature's busy engineer and conservationist, the beaver builds dams that retard rise of rivers at flood time and help conserve water which is shared by wild ducks, muskrats and many other forms of wildlife. These dams involve highly developed instincts, even the intelligence to adapt the type of construction to varying circumstances.

Beavers sometimes damage timber and flood farmland, even cause highway problems. But the attributes of this great furbearer at least partially make up for losses and inconveniences caused by the "hydraulic engineer of the wild."

The Phoenix, Ariz., Chamber of Commerce reports there are 3,700 real estate agents in the vicinity of the city and the Valley of the Sun. That's one agent for every 156 current residents.

'Evening Eyes' Mirror Excitement

Iridescent Colors Are New Highlights

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Iridescent color, in creamy stick form, is the newest way to give yourself evening eyes for after five. It's intended to deepen the color of your eyes and to add a certain sparkle and excitement.

There are two ways to apply this mist of color: in a streak at the edge of the lid, and in a luminous film over the entire lid. By experimentation, you can find out which is most becoming to you.

Generally, your eye color is a sound guide to the color of the eyeshadow you choose. But teal frost can be used for either blue or green eyes. And iridescent silver is a shade that all women can wear superbly. It's lovely with the sparkle of pearl and rhinestone jewelry. Since it makes the white of the eyes look whiter, it deepens the color of the iris by contrast.

Mauve mist is a shade that many women will want to experiment with this winter. It's lovely for wear with white or the whole range of blue or violet.

For a really big evening out, this girl has fun with make-up. She achieves intriguing look with iridescent eyeshadow smoothed over the entire lid.

Foreign Countess Sought Is in Sexy Scandal in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Police are looking for a mysterious foreign countess who may be a key witness in France's sexy scandal of teen-age dancing girls.

The police did not name the countess but hinted she may have given dancing lessons — of a sort — to the young girls who then entertained a collection of influential men.

The investigation of the growing "rose ballet" scandal has already resulted in indictments for "attacks on public decency" against the former president of the French National Assembly, bald, Andre Le Troquer, 74, and two prominent Parisians, businessman Jean Jessor, and Guillaume Guglielmi, a leading hairdresser to whose salons the fashionable ladies of Paris stream.

The three men were placed on provisional liberty and immediately went into seclusion after engaging a battery of well-known lawyers who began scattering denials like snowflakes.

Girls involved in the case are under age — some only 14 — and their names are protected under French law. No one knows how many girls may be involved.

DRUGGIST'S DRUGGIST — Pharmacist Nicholas S. Gesalke, 73, of Great Neck, L.I., N.Y., has been chosen as the drug industry's "Man of the Year." He was chosen in a nationwide poll because of his 53-year career in the interest of public health.

JC's Are Planning For Industry on Parade Project

The Industry on Parade project, sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held in Beaty Junior High School cafeteria on April 3 from 6:30 to 10:00 p.m. and on April 4 from 2:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Purpose of this project will be to educate the people of Warren on products produced in our community; to reveal uses of these products and the complications used by industry in their production; to provide industry with an opportunity to display their products to people of this area, to establish good will between industry and the general public.

Listed below is the necessary information and requirements for entry:

1. Each entry is to supply a sample (or samples) of the items to be displayed. A written description or photograph will suffice.

2. Materials, methods and phases of production may be displayed along with finished product where it is possible.

3. Each industry will be assigned a JayCee to direct the erection, location and dismantling of the product display. Each industry will be responsible for janitorial duties in their display area.

4. Each industry will be able to procure a display area of from eight to twenty feet of frontage. There will be a charge of $1.00 per foot of frontage to defray the cost of successfully having this project.

5. It would be to the advantage of each industry to advertise his entry in this project. The Times-Mirror will handle your needs.

6. If at all possible, each industry should have a top notch man on hand to answer any questions and explain production methods.

7. Each adult will be asked for a 25 cent donation. This money will be used to purchase awards to be given away during the parade.

Students of Warren High School and Beaty Junior High School will be asked to write an essay on the Industry on Parade project, so let's make this one the best ever.

Welfare Dep't. Busy At Work on Budget

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state budget office said today that consultations are being held daily with officials of the public welfare department on that agency's budget for the coming biennium.

"Since this is one of the largest budgets, you can appreciate that there is much discussion about it, and it is safe to say that there will be some revisions," said David Baldwin, budget secretary.

Baldwin said no definite action has been taken on the proposed 190 million dollar increase in the budget for 1956-61, which would call for a total appropriation of 509 millions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q. If I am able to pay off my GI home loan faster, by making extra payments, would I have to pay a penalty?
A. No. You may make extra payments on your mortgage at any time, or pay off the entire GI loan, without penalty. However, an extra payment must be at least as large as a regular one month's payment, or a flat $100, whichever is less.

Q. I am in college under the Korean GI Bill. My cut-off date has passed, and if I want to change my course now I know it must be a normal progression of the course I am now taking.

I'm about to Graduate from law school and I want to take a bar review course. Would that be considered a normal progression?
A. It would, since it leads naturally to fulfillment of your goal of becoming a lawyer.
Q. I am a World War II veteran and have never applied for a GI home loan. How much more time do I have in which to get a loan?

A. World War II veterans have until July 25, 1960, to apply for a GI loan. The law allows up to a year after that date to complete the deal.
Q. I want to apply for a disability rider on my GI insurance, to give me an income if I am disabled so I can't work. Will the new increased coverage of up to $100 a month cost me twice as much as the old, which allowed only $50 a month?
A. No. Your additional payment for the new increased coverage would be small. Any VA office will give you exact figures for the extra payment on your policy.

Andrews Declares War on "Sticky-Fingered" Help

By BOB HOLTON
HARRISBURG (AP) — If you're a state government pack rat—a pencil and paper clip snatcher—beware of Rep. H. G. Andrews.
The 82-year-old Democratic House speaker has declared open warfare on all state employees—from the governor on down—who get a little sticky-fingered whenever they lay hands on state-supplied pencils and other small office equipment.
In a sense, Andrews will be battling himself. He is a confessed pencil snatcher.
"I have a large box at home jammed with pencils of every description which I pick up at state conferences and meetings," Andrews admitted.
"Just look at my desk," he said.
"Here's a fistful of paper clips, rubber bands, note pads, all property of the state government."
The veteran lawmaker estimated 1,000 state pencils are carted from government meetings to private homes every day.
"State government, and me included, is loaded with pack rats who grab up, unconsciously, every little item laying around and cart it home or back to their offices," Andrews complained.
Although he conceded that small economies in the pencil and rubber band class would never wipe out the need for taxes in Pennsylvania he insisted there were considerable savings to be made in that manner.

County Soil Conservation Reports Show A Busy Year

Warren County Soil Conservation District showed in its 1958 annual report that 670 farmers to date have requested assistance from WSCCD. Allan Lindell and Blain Mead were reappointed directors in 1958, serving with Robert Rowland, Robert W. Johnson and Gerald G. Bensink.
Primary responsibility of Soil Conservation Service is to assist farmers, cooperating with the District in treatment of each acre of land according to needs for protection and improvement and to use that land within its capabilities.
Warren High School conservation class was again a leader in promoting conservation among high school students. John Reddelcliff is instructor.
During last year, a department forester advised 24 Warren County land owners on woodland improvement, harvest, marketing or tree planting, representing 580 acres.
Following are some main conservation practices established on land: establishment of perennial hay, pasture planting, tree planting, proper woodland use, wildlife area improvement and development, grassed waterways, farm ponds, obstruction removal and others.
State Forest nursery stock totaling 174,000 seedlings was planted in Warren County by 35 owners. This represents planting of approximately 160 acres.
Soil Conservation District Directors and Vocational Agriculture teachers of Warren County worked together during the year in promoting soil conservation.

But how would you go about doing such a thing?
"Simple," says Andrews. "Just get meeting and conference chairmen in the habit of asking those at the parleys to please leave the pencils when the meeting ends. Save the pencils and hand them out at the next meeting."
The same goes for paper clips and rubber bands.

Rampaging Water Wrecks Camps in Mayburg Vicinity

As Reported by J. Wilson
Numerous sightseers visited the Mayburg area in Forest County to see first hand the disaster caused there to several camps during the recent flooding conditions.
Tionesta Creek went on a wild rampage with huge cakes of ice wrecking camps throughout the area.
Sightseers saw remains of 52 camps — some turned upside down, on their sides, some floated down stream as far as one mile from their original site. It is reported that two camps are sitting upright on a huge cake of ice. Roofs from some camps are strewn about. Fifteen camps were completely destroyed.
State Police from Tionesta barracks and Sheriff's department were on hand last Sunday to handle the hundreds of cars that flocked to the area. Autos were lined bumper to bumper along Route 666 from Kellettville, five miles south and north as far as one could see.
Civil Defense officials have moved into the area to protect it from being looted.

Car Corroded? Salt Is Not Only Cause, Experts Say

Yearly motorists begin talking about corrosion of their cars from salt used in highways. Taken from Oil City Derrick is a fine article on this subject which also points out six very important steps to take against car corrosion:

"It's not only salt that corrodes your automobile."

This was stated yesterday by Eugene Hondel, the city's general superintendent. And he referred to a pamphlet put out by the Salt Institute to back his assertion.

"Field studies show there is almost as much corrosion of cars in regions where salt is not used as in areas where it is employed for ice removal," stated the pamphlet.

The humidity of the atmosphere where a car is kept is a more important factor than salt treatment of roads in determining the extent of corrosion of automobile underbodies, according to the study.

Two experts on corrosion of the International Nickel Company, F. L. LeQue and E. J. Hergenrother, stated in a report to the Society of Automotive Engineers in 1949:

"There seems to be little question that chlorides can aggravate corrosion.

"At the same time one should not reach the conclusion that chlorides encountered from this source are the most important factor in the deterioration of automobiles or that in the localities where they are used corrosion of cars would cease if the use of the salts were to be discontinued.

"It is important to note that salt adhering to the car will have an indirect adverse effect through keeping the metal moist as a result of the hygroscopic properties of the salt.

"This means that corrosion will occur at a lower relative humidity when there is salt on the metal than when salt is absent."

The salt institute acknowledged that unprotected iron and steel portions of an automobile will be vulnerable to corrosion "whenever and wherever the vehicle is exposed to water and air, regardless of de-icing salt."

The following maintenance program was recommended by the institute:

1. Wash the car frequently.
2. Wax it every two or three months to seal the paint and plating against the corrosive effect of moisture and air.
3. Touch up scratches in the paint immediately.
4. Have the asphaltic coating on the underside of the car checked periodically and visible breaks recoated.
5. Flush off packed mud, abrasives and ice to prevent moisture retention between the accumulated mass and the metal.
6. Store the car in a dry place, if possible. Quick drying after exposure to moisture helps ward off corrosion.

Vice President Supports Ike's Spending Setup

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to have linked his chances for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination to the Eisenhower administration's record.

There had been speculation that Nixon might strike out on his own to establish a position independent of the White House. But word passed to associates indicates he is giving his full support to Eisenhower's effort to hold down spending. He reportedly considers this a major campaign factor for 1960. Eisenhower named the vice president last week as head of a Cabinet committee to combat inflation.

Eisenhower has emphasized he regards a balanced budget as essential to ward off inflation, a view to which Nixon obviously subscribes.

Beyond that Nixon has made it clear he supports the Lincoln concept that Eisenhower frequently mentions — that the government should do for the people only what they can't do for themselves or can't do as well.

All of this seems likely to put Nixon in a somewhat opposite position from his greatest potential rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Before Rockefeller became governor, the Rockefeller brothers fund which he helps to support issued a report that recommended, among other things, a higher level of defense spending than the $40,800,000,000 Eisenhower has outlined in his balanced 77-billion-dollar budget. Nixon stands firmly behind this defense total.

Rockefeller also is represented as favoring greater spending for natural resource, housing, health, education and welfare projects than Eisenhower has been willing to undertake under the Lincoln concept. After only a month as governor Rockefeller already is under Democratic attack in his home state on the economy issue.

Michael H. Prendergast, Democratic state chairman, said in weekend statement that Rockefeller was proving to be "a luxury the people of New York state can ill afford." Prendergast complained about a proposed 275-million-dollar increase in state tax, contending this did not promote "economy and prudence."

Under the German Kaiser the Prussian Guards had to wear feather tall in their boots.

Nails Get Head Start on '59 Glitter

Metallics Are the Thing

BY ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Painting your nails with gold, silver, or bronze polish is just one of many ways to get a sound start on the New Year. Year by year, beauty products do more for women, offer them more in the way of improved looks, time saved, glamour easily acquired. Sheathing your nails in a gleaming jewel shade for evening is a cinch. Use a tough, pliant jewel base to start. This will fill in cracks and ridges, providing a smooth surface on which to brush the gold, silver or bronze of your choice. It's best to use two thin coats of polish to build up protection against chipping or cracking. Then flow on a sealing coat and you're finished. Bear in mind that this is a highly sophisticated treatment for the nails, to be reserved for dates and very special evenings out. All three glittering shades are ideally keyed to the rich brocades and dark furs of winter.

For added glamour on a glittery winter evening, this girl applies nail lacquer formulated from 24-carat gold. It wears far longer and won't chip, the makers say.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Short$$. Long Fair-mindedness. During antlered deer season just past, Game Protector Robert Rea apprehended a hunter in Venango County who had a loaded gun in his car. Rea reports: "To pay his fine the man needed 35 cents more than he had with him. It was agreed I would make up the shortage and he could send me the money. One week later I received it in a letter that read: 'Here is the 35c I was short. Have no hard feelings. Wish you best of luck and Season's Greetings.' There was this postscript: 'I was so mad at myself for breaking the law I made up my mind to get a buck for the fine I paid. By golly, I shot a four-point one an hour later, and that made me forget all about the penalty.'"

Starlings Get Hotfoot Many persons at Harrisburg and Washington, irritated by unperturbed flocks of starlings, "Wish the dirty birds would drop dead." Well, this recently happened in southwestern Pennsylvania, but in this case the consequences were far from desirable. A McKeesport Daily Times item tells that "Production literally was lost to the birds when Berks County last season Douglass Felbert of Bernville saw two skunks. One of the little stinkers came toward him. Doug tried to get away but it pursued him. Finally the worried hunter was forced to shoot the skunk in self defense.

Rep. Johnson To Be Candidate for Superior Court

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP) — The impending candidacy of Rep. Albert W. Johnson R-McKean for the State Superior Court is expected to touch off the 1959 political campaign.

Johnson, 52, a Smethport attorney who is serving now as House Republican floor leader, was described by his friends as ready to announce his formal bid Feb. 24.

Feb. 24 is the first day to circulate nominating petitions for the May 19 primary election and the Nov. 3 municipal election.

Pennsylvania voters will choose candidates for only two statewide offices this year. Both are judicial places, one on the State Supreme Court and one on the State Superior Court.

Johnson's name has been the only one mentioned among possible candidates for the Superior Court vacancy to be created by the retirement of Judge William E. Hirt, 77, Erie Republican.

Gov. Lawrence is expected to have an important voice in the slating of Democratic candidates for both courts.

So far, he has given no indication of his position on plans by Justice Thomas D. McBride to seek a full 21-year term on the state Supreme Court.

Former Gov. George M. Leader gave an interim appointment to McBride last year in the face of opposition from several Democrats who had favored Judge Michael J. Eagen of Lackawanna County.

If the opposition to McBride continues, a Democratic primary fight could shape up between McBride and Eagen.

No Such Thing as a Successful Alcoholic

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Cincinnati psychiatrist has an answer for business-executive alcoholics who say "How can I be an alcoholic when I'm so successful?"

"Maybe he's earning a lot of money, and maybe he's fourth vice president of his company," said Dr. Robert J. Kalhoff.

"But if he wasn't an alcoholic, he might now be the president — and in 10 years, if he keeps on drinking, he'll be lucky if he's the janitor."

Kalhoff addressed the 10th annual national meeting of the Guild of Catholic Psychiatrists Monday.

of municipal offices will be filled this year. Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia has announced he would seek a second term.

In Pittsburgh, the resignation of Lawrence as mayor opened the way for an election to fill the remainder of a two-year term. Thomas J. Gallagher, council president, automatically moved up to mayor when Lawrence resigned. But he is not expected to be a candidate.

Twenty-eight of the state's 47 third class cities also will elect mayors this year.

Farm program is now active in 46 states.

Overworked? Here Are Some Step-Saving Tips for Wives

The woman who is always complaining about how overworked she is usually turns out to be a woman who doesn't use her head to save her hands and feet.

She'll walk all over town trying to find a certain article—instead of using the telephone to locate it.

She'll hit the supermarket at five every day, instead of marketing once or twice a week.

She'll chauffeur her children every place they have to go because car pools are "too much trouble."

She'll make a separate trip for every errand she has to run, instead of saving up a list and making one trip count for half a dozen errands.

She'll neglect a small repair, until a major one is required—all on the grounds that she just didn't have time to see to the small chore, though the big one will take much more time and have to be done eventually.

She'll try for days to reach someone by telephone when writing a postcard asking the person to get in touch with her would take but a couple of minutes of her time.

She'll use a cash-carry concern, without bothering to find out if she can get delivery service from another at the same price.

She'll sit in boredom under a hair dryer in a beauty salon when she could be writing letters or reading one of the books she claims she never has time to read.

She'll let anything waste her time—from a door-to-door salesman to a TV program she isn't interested in but hasn't the will power to turn off.

Any woman who is always tired, always behind in her work, and always wishing for more hours in the day ought to be sure that she is using her head to save herself effort and time.

Revenue Service Says Turkey Gift Taxable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service at Tacoma, Wash., has ruled that an employee must pay tax on a turkey received from his boss at Christmas.

This was disclosed today by

Rep. Thor Tollefson (R-Wash.), who called the ruling ridiculous but technically correct. He said he would ask Congress to exempt such gifts worth less than $20.

Lincoln Vignettes ---(2)

Lincoln's power with words is well known, particularly his ability to say a great deal very simply. But at least one time, Lincoln needed no words to put his point over.

During Lincoln's early electioneering days in Illinois, he and his fellow party members were attacked at a rally by a demagogue. Lincoln stood by patiently while he was charged with being an aristocrat and manufacturing lord.

Then going to the platform, he pulled open the speaker's coat. The contrast between the man's ruffled shirt, gold watch, chain and seals and Lincoln's rough attire was immediately apparent.

Borrowing Limit Of School Dists. Affected by Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — A uniform statewide basis to increase a school district's borrowing limit would be set up under a bill before the Senate Education Committee today.

The measure provides that—assessed valuation of property taxable for school purposes be listed at 70 per cent of the market value of real estate in the school district.

The assessed valuation is a basic figure used to determine how much money a district may borrow without turning to the more costly authority method of financing construction.

Presently, the figure ranges from 20 to 65 per cent of the market value of taxable property, depending on the school district.

The bill was introduced Monday by Sens. Harry E. Seyler (D-York), Paul W. Mahady (D-Westmoreland) and Jo Hays (D-Centre).

Another senate bill would: Transfer administration of the Pennsylvania Training school at Morgantown and the Pennsylvania Training school at Kist-Lyn, Luzerne County, from the Public Welfare Department to the Justice Department (S113)—Sen. Albert R. Peckham (R—Armstrong).

Science Develops New Set of Eyes That Can See Heat

By JOHN BARBOUR Associated Press Science Writer NEW YORK (AP)—In the dark of night you now can see a man light a cigarette over five miles away — even if the light of his match is too weak to carry that distance.

In pitch dark, you now can see the tip of a finger more than half the length of a football field.

This strange ability to see in the dark is ours because science has given us a new set of eyes that can see heat.

They are so precise that they can detect temperature differences of a few hundredths of a degree some five miles away.

A set of these infra-red or heat-sensitive eyes rides in the nose of the lethal U.S. Navy Sidewinder missile. Fired from one plane at another, it seeks out the heat of its target's engine and homes in on it, hardly ever missing.

Along the Atlantic missile test range, huge missile nose cones burning their way back into the earth's atmosphere can be spotted and tracked by infra-red eyes in the dark of night.

Actually, infra-red devices operate fairly simply in principle. As a light meter registers the amount of light coming from a source, the infra-red device measures the amount of heat.

Right now the biggest uses of the heat-sensitive eyes is military. Devices carried by drone aircraft will be able to scout over enemy lines. These devices will read where vehicles and men are concentrated and will be a valuable aid in stripping away enemy camouflage.

Birds Provide Clue Which May Aid TB Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unique wax-eating birds in Africa have provided a clue which eventually may help control tuberculosis, the National Science Foundation says.

In its annual report, the NSF said some of its contract scientists had found in the intestines of such birds a hitherto unidentified bacterium that produces a certain protein fraction.

This protein inhibits the growth of tuberculosis germs in test tubes. Moreover, in preliminary experiments, it appears to protect guinea pigs against the TB germ.

The bird is called the "honey guide" because it guides certain mammals, including man, to the vicinity of wild bees' nests. After the mammals forage such nests, the tiny birds feed on the waxy honeycomb, their chief source of food.

While studying the digestion and nutrition of these birds, NSF scientists found a "wax-splitting bacterium" in the intestinal tract which apparently helps the birds digest their waxy diet.

The scientists, knowing that the causative germ of tuberculosis has a waxy envelope, tested the effect of the protein fraction on TB germs.

Sweden's population at the beginning of 1959 was 7,484,000.

fully detected an approaching ballistic missile on the U.S. range was on May 18, 1958, when the army using Aerojet-General Corp. equipment spotted a Jupiter test missile.

After that Aerojet scientists tracked the Soviet's Sputnik III detector.

Quick Thinking Saves Workman Buried Alive

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa. (AP) — A quick-thinking fellow worker and painstaking rescuers were credited today with saving a 46-year-old Wampum man buried 2½ hours in a cone-shaped bin at the Brighton Brick Co. Robert Raisley was chipping dried clay from the bin when more clay poured in, burying him to the tip of his cap. Glenn Wilson cleared the clay from Raisley's face while others placed a barrel over his head to prevent the clay from engulfing him. Then they began the tedious task of digging him out. Beaver Valley General Hospital officials said Raisley suffered mostly from shock.
